WILSON SAYS U-BOATS MUST QUIT OR U. S. WILL BREAK

Washington, April 19.—The State Department wasadvised this afternoon by Ambassador Gerard at Berlin that the ultimatum on the submarine controversy had arrived there. It will be delivered to the Berlin Foreign Office at once.

By JOHN ED WIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

House of Representatives, The Capitol, Washington, April 19.—Sharply indicting Germany for its use of submarines against merchant vessels, President Woodrow Wilson today, in a joint session of Congress, issued public notice to the world that unless the German government changes its methods the United States will have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations.

His message was received with scant applause, and in the Senate, on motion of Senator Stone, was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations without debate. In the House, Speaker Clark exercised the perogative of his office and the message was referred as in the Senate.

The "history in the making" was witnessed by one of the largest gatherings that has ever been jammed into the historic chamber of the House of Representatives. Every single available inch of space was utilized, while literally thousnds were turned away.

Thre was no questioning the seriousness of the President's position. His voice, somewhat husky, penetrated every corner of the room, and the message was emphasized with an expression that showed its author was fearful of the outcome. That seriousness was shared by the audience ,the usual applause given the President's utterances being absent.

The message in every sense was an ultimatum. True, it contained no time limit within which reply must be made. But it flatly insisted that the German submarine warfare has reached the stage when this government will no longer tolerate it

U. S. PATIENT.

The German explanations, previously made, have been accepted in good faith, the President said, in the hope that that government would finally be "Able so to order and control the acts of its naval commanders as to square its policy with the principles of humaniy as embodied in the law of nations."

The United States has been willing to wait ,the President said, "until the significance of the facts became absolutely unmistakeable and susceptible of but one interpretation. That point, he said, has "now unhappily been reached."

The President then explained that he had deemed it his duty to say to Germany that if it still is its purpose to "prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against the vessels of commerce by the use of submarines the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity." Then he said:

"Unless the Imperial German government should now immediately declare in effect an abandonment of its

CARRANZISTA CALLS VILLA'S DEATH 'RUMOR'

Chihuahua City, Mex., April 19, via El Paso, April 19.—Fifteen Carranzista soldiers, accused of fomenting a plot to aid "Pancho" Villa, were executed here today by the military authorities. General Gutierrez, commandant here, stated today that Villa's death was "merely a rumor".' He declined to amplify his statement or to say whether he had information that the bandit leader was still alive.

Washington, April 19.—Secretary of War Baker announced today that General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, would leave this evening for San Antonio for a conference with General Funston. Secretary Baker stated that General Funston will remain in full command of the expedition in Mexico.

General Pershing has sent reinforcements to the American troops in the Parral district, according to a dispatch today from General Funston to the War Department. Just

Complete Text of Wilson's Address To the Congress

Following is the complete text of the President's address to Congress:

Gentlemen of the Congress—A situation has arisen in the foreign relations of the country of which it is my plain duty to inform you very frankly.

It will be recalled that in February, 1915, the Imperial Government announced its intention to treat the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland as embraced within the seat of war, and to destroy all merchant ships owned by its enemies that might be found within any part of that portion of the high seas, and that it warned all vessels, of neutral as well as of belligerent ownership, to keep out of the waters it had thus prescribed or else enter them at their peril.

The government of the United States earnestly protested. It took the position that such a policy could not be pursued without the practical certainty of gross and palpable violations of the law of nations, particularly if submarine craft were to be employed as its instruments, inasmuch as the rules prescribed by that law, rules founded upon principles of humanity and established for the protection of the lives of non-combatants at sea, could not in the nature of the case be observed by such vessels.

Neutrals Exposed to Extreme Risks.

It based its protest on the ground that persons of neutral nationality and vessels of neutral ownership would be exposed to extreme and intolerable risks, and that no right to close any part of the high seas against their use or to expose them to such risks could lawfully be asserted by any belligerent government.

The law of nations, in these matters, upon which the government of the United States based its protest, is not of recent origin or founded upon merely arbitrary principles set up by convention.

It is based, on the contrary, upon manifest and imperative principles of humanity and has long been established with the approval and by the express assent of all civilized nations.

U. S. PROTEST IN VAIN

Notwithstanding the earnest protest of our government, the Imperial German government at once proceeded to carry out the policy it had announced. It expressed the hope that the dangers involved, at any rate the dangers to neutral vessels, would be reduced to a minimum by the instructions which it had issued to its submarine commanders, and assured the government of the United States that it would take every possible precaution both to respect the rights of neutrals and present methods of warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels this government can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the government of the German empire altogether."

The President consumed [illegible] minutes in the delivery of his speech. A scattering of applause marked the end of it, but most of it came from the gallery. It subsided quickly and the President turned to the vice president and the speaker, shook hands with them and left the chamber amidst absolute silence. He returned directly to the White House.

Congress was deluged with telegrams today from German-Americans in every part of the country, but especially from the great Middle West, calling upon the members to use their best endeavors to prevent any diplomatic break with Germany.

One of these, typical of the majority, from the German Singing Society of Cincinnati, said:

"Use your best efforts to prevent a break between this government and Germany. The present situation demands careful handling."

While the House went about its regular business awaiting the arrival of the hour for the joint session, the crowded membership on the floor [illegible] people and discussed the coming address.

The business before the House—a [illegible] report on the free sugar [illegible]—was given scant attention and Speaker Clark had difficulty in preserving any semblance of order on the floor. Chairman [illegible], fresh from his conference with the President, Majority Leader Kitchin, Republican Leader Mann and other leaders talked over the situation during a roll-call on the sugar bill.

The House was in turmoil with members talking and laughing until the din drowned out the clerk's call and the responses from the floor. Several times the roll call was interrupted, while the Speaker sought to restore order. In the corridors outside the galleries was another tumultuous scene. Hundreds of would-be spectators sought to elbow their way into the galleries.

CORRIDORS JAMMED.

But the doorkeeper had arranged a system of admission by ticket, and no one without a ticket was allowed inside the doors. As a result, while the galleries were still half empty, the corridors and passageways of the House wing were jammed with an excited throng, most of them women seeking to force their way to the galleries.

The extra police stationed at every entrance to the Capitol and scattered through the corridors had their hands full. They scrutinized every would-be spectator closely and insisted upon barring out all those who were not able to produce the necessary ticket.

Senator Stone, chairman, and Senator Lodge, minority ranking member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Representative Flood, chairman, and Representative Cooper, ranking minority member of the House Foreign Affairs Committees, went into conference with President Wilson in the latter's private study at the White House at 10:01 o'clock.

All the conferees were very grave on leaving the White House. At the request of the President, they declined to discuss at any length what had been told them, but there was little effort made by them to disguise their belief that the situation had reached such a stage that only a miracle can avert a break in diplomatic relations.

The Sussex attack was declared to have been the compelling factor in determining the President on the course that he was to pursue, but it was merely considered as an outstanding factor. The administration, the President told the Senate and House leaders, has piled up an accumulation of evidence that he believes conclusively shows the violation of pledges by Germany that there is nothing left to do, if the United States is to retain its self-respect and its position as a world power, but to insist that Germany adopt a new course.

A REMARKABLE TREE

The Fluid Distilled From It Heals and Soothes the Skin

Along the shores of the Mediterranean Sea, on stony hillsides and in waste places, grows a small, common prickly cedar tree (see picture) that scientists call Juniperus Oxycedrus. From the heartwood of this tree is distilled a brownish liquid having a distinct odor somewhat resembling tar. For hundreds of years the peasants of Spain, France, and Northern Africa have used this fluid to cure skin diseases both of man and of sheep, horses and other domestic animals. In more recent times this fluid was given the name of Oil of Cade, and the Medical Profession throughout the world employed it in treating eczema and many other skin troubles. It possesses remarkable healing, soothing and curative properties when applied to the skin, and seems to have been intended by Nature for this particular purpose. Oil of Cade, combined with other beneficial drugs, is used in making Cadum Ointment, the new skin remedy. It stops itching as soon as applied and begins the healing process immediately. Probably the brownish fluid from this remarkable tree is the very thing your skin requires to be made smooth and well. If you have pimples, eczema or skin irritations of any kind, get a 25c. box of Cadum Ointment today from your druggist, or send for free sample to the Omega Chemical Co., New York.

WILSON FINDS PRECEDENT IN M'KINLEY ACT IN 1898

By International News Service.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson finds a precedent for his request for action by Congress in the situation that confronted President McKinley in 1898, when he asked Congress for permission to use the army and navy to end hostilities in Cuba.

For three years a revolution had raged on the island between Spanish forces and the Cuban forces. American commerce had suffered heavily and American interests in Cuba were in danger of ruin.

In several diplomatic notes, Spain had been warned by the United States about the fighting and destruction of American property.

The destruction of the battleship Maine in Havana Harbor, February 15, 1898 brought matters to a crisis. In his message to Congress in December, before the Maine's destruction, which cost 266 lives, President McKinley had recommended that Spain get more time to redeem her broken promises concerning the restoration of peace.

SENDS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

When the Maine was blown up, cries for intervention swept through the country. President McKinley resisted sentiment for a time in the hope that the strained situation between Spain and the United States could be adjusted without war.

Matters grew worse, and on April 11, 1898, President McKinley sent a message to Congress asking permission to employ the armed forces of the country. In his message to Congress, President McKinley declared:

"The only hope of relief and repose from a condition which can no longer be endured is the enforced pacification of Cuba. In the name of humanity, in the name of civilization, in behalf of endangered American interests which give us the right and duty to speak and act, the war in Cuba must stop."

President McKinley gave four reasons to justify intervention.

The first two were purely humanitarian. The third read:

"Right to intervene may be justified by the very serious injury to the commerce, trade and business of our people and by the wanton destruction of property and devastation of the island."

The fourth reason given by McKinley was:

"The present condition of affairs in Cuba is a constant menace to our peace, and entails on this government an enormous expense.

"With such a conflict waged for years in an island so near us and with which our people have such trade and business relations; when the lives and liberty of our citizens are in constant danger and their property and themselves ruined, when our trading vessels are liable to seizure and are seized at our very doors by warships of a foreign nation, the expeditions of filibustering that we are powerless to prevent altogether, and the irritating questions and entanglements thus arising—all these and others, are a constant menace to our peace and compel us to keep on a semi-war with a nation with which we are at peace."

DECLARES CUBA FREE.

The message ends with what might be called a warning that Spain would be held to "strict accountability" for further trouble in Cuba.

Congress promptly replied by adopting a resolution declaring the people of Cuba free and independent, demanding the surrender of all Spanish authority over the island and directing, as well as empowering, the President to enforce the resolution with the army and navy.

The President signed the measure on April 19, and sent it as an ultimatum to Spain, setting noon on the twenty-third as the time limit for an answer.

On the twenty-fourth, Spain formally declared war on the United States. The United States declared war the next day. Great Britain and other powers at once issued proclamations of neutrality.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ADDRESS TO CONGRESS

to safeguard the lives of non-combatants.

What has actually happened in the year which has since elapsed has shown that those hopes were not justified, those assurances insusceptible of being fulfilled.

In pursuance of the policy of submarine warfare against the commerce of its adversaries, thus announced and entered upon by the imperial German government, in spite of the solemn protest of this government the commanders of German undersea vessels have attacked merchant ships with greater and greater activity, not only upon the high seas surrounding Great Britain and Ireland, but wherever they could encounter them, in a way that has grown more and more ruthless, more and more indiscriminate as the months have gone by, less and less observant of restraints of any kind; and have delivered their attacks without compunction against vessels of every nationality and bound upon every sort of errand.

"TRAGEDY FOLLOWS TRAGEDY."

Vessels of neutral ownership—even vessels of neutral ownership bound from neutral port to neutral port—have been destroyed along with vessels of belligerent ownership, in constantly increasing numbers.

Sometimes the merchantmen attacked have been warned and summoned to surrender before being fired on or torpedoed; sometimes passengers or crews have been vouchsafed the poor security of being allowed to take to the ship's boats before she was sent to the bottom.

But again no warning has been given, no escape even to the ship's boats allowed to those on board.

What this government foresaw must happen has happened. Tragedy has followed tragedy on the seas in such fashion with such attendant circumstances as to make it grossly evident that warfare of such a sort, if warfare it be, cannot be carried on without the most palpable violation of the dictates alike of right and of humanity.

Whatever the disposition and intention of the Imperial German government, it has manifestly proved impossible for it to keep such methods of attack upon the commerce of its enemies within the bounds set by either the reason or the heart of mankind.

In February of the present year, the Imperial German government informed this government and the other neutral governments of the world that it had reason to believe that the government of Great Britain had armed all merchant vessels of British ownership and had given them secret orders to attack any submarine of the enemy they might encounter upon the seas, and the Imperial German government felt justified in the circumstances in treating all armed merchantmen of belligerent ownership as auxiliary vessels of war, which it would have the right to destroy without warning.

The law of nations has long recognized the right of merchantmen to carry arms for protection and to use them to repel attack, though to use them, in such circumstances, at their own risk; but the imperial German government claimed the right to set these understandings aside in circumstances which it deemed extraordinary.

Even the terms in which it announced its purpose thus still further to relax the restraints it had previously professed its willingness and desire to put upon the operations of its submarines carried the plain implication that at least vessels which were not armed would still be exempt from destruction without warning, and that personal safety would be accorded their passengers and crews; but even that limitation, if it was ever practicable to observe it, has in fact constituted no check at all upon the destruction of ships of every sort.

PASSENGER SHIPS ATTACKED.

Again and again, the imperial German government has given this government its solemn assurances that at least passenger ship would not be thus dealt with, and yet it has again and again permitted its undersea commanders to disregard those assurances with entire impunity.

Great liners like the Lusitania and the Arabic and mere ferryboats like the Sussex have been attacked without a moment's warning, sometimes before they had even become aware that they were in the presence of an armed vessel of the enemy, and the lives of non-combatants, passengers and crew have been sacrificed wholesale, in a manner which the government of the United States cannot but regard as wanton and without the slightest color of justification.

No limit of any kind has in fact been set to the indiscriminate pursuit and destruction of merchantmen of all kinds and nationalities within the waters, constantly extending in area, where these operations have been carried on; and the roll of Americans who have lost their lives on ships thus attacked and destroyed has grown month by month until the ominous toll has mounted into the hundreds.

One of the latest and most shocking instances of this method of warfare was that of the destruction of the French cross-channel steamer Sussex. It must stand forth, as the sinking of the steamer Lusitania did, as so singularly tragical and unjustifiable as to constitute a truly terrible example of the inhumanity of submarine warfare as the commanders of German vessels have for the past twelve months been conducting it.

If this instance stood alone, some explanation, some disavowal by the German government, some evidence of criminal mistake or wilful disobedience on the part of the commander of the vessel that fired the torpedo might be sought or entertained; but unhappily it does not stand alone.

Recent events make the conclusion inevitable that it is only one instance, even though it be one of the most extreme and distressing instances, of the spirit and method of warfare which the imperial German government has mistakenly adopted and which from the first exposed that government to the reproach of thrusting all neutral rights aside in pursuit of its immediate objects.

The government of the United States has been very patient. At every stage of this distressing experience of tragedy after tragedy in which its own citizens were involved it has sought to be restrained from any extreme course of action or of protest by a thoughtful consideration of the extraordinary circumstances of this unprecedented war and actuated in all it said or did by the sentiments of genuine friendship, which the people of the United States have always entertained and continue to entertain toward the German nation.

It has, of course, accepted the successive explanations and assurances of the imperial German government as given in entire sincerity and good faith, and has hoped, even against hope, that it would prove to be possible for the German government so to order and control the acts of its naval commanders, as to square its policy with the principles of humanity as embodied in the law of nations. It has been willing to wait until the significance of the facts became absolutely unmistakable and susceptible of but one interpretation.

BUT ONE INTERPRETATION.

That point has now unhappily been reached. The facts are susceptible of but one interpretation. The imperial German government has been unable to put any limits or restraints upon its warfare against either freight or passenger ship.

It has therefore become painfully evident that the position which this government took at the very outset is inevitable, namely, that the use of the submarines for the destruction of an enemy's commerce is of necessity because of the very character of the vessels employed and the very methods of attack, which their employment of course involves, incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals, and the sacred immunities of non-combatants.

I have deemed it my duty, therefore, to say to the imperial German government that if it is still its purpose to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines, notwithstanding the now demonstrated impossibility of conducting that warfare in accordance with what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue; and that unless the imperial German government should now immediately declare in effect an abandonment of its present methods of warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels this government can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the government of the German Empire altogether.

CANNOT REMAIN SILENT.

The decision I have arrived at with the keenest regret; the possibility of the action contemplated I am sure all thoughtful Americans will look forward to with unaffected reluctance.

But we cannot forget that we are in some sort and by the force of circumstances the responsible spokesmen of the right of humanity, and that we cannot remain silent while those rights seem in process of being swept utterly away in the maelstrom of this terrible war.

We owe it to a due regard for our own rights as a nation, to our sense of duty as a representative of the rights of neutrals the world over, and to a just conception of the rights of mankind to take this stand now with the utmost solemnity and firmness.

I have taken it, and taken it in the confidence that it will meet with your approval and support.

All sober-minded men must unite in hoping that the imperial German government, which has in other circumstances stood as the champion of all that we are now contending for in the interest of humanity, may recognize the justice of our demands and meet them in the spirit in which they are made.

SAVES ELDERLY FOLKS FROM BLADDER MISERY

When you're fifty your body begins to creak a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be," is a frequent and unwelcome thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Unpleasant complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only knew how, this trouble can be obviated.

The best known remedy for these troubles is GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This remedy has stood the test for more than 200 years since it was first produced in the ancient laboratories in Haarlem, Holland. It acts directly on the kidneys and bladder and gives relief at once, or your money will be refunded.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles.

Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They soak into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those stiffened joints, that backache, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gall-stones, gravel, "brick-dust," etc. They are an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

VON IGEL PLEA IS GRANTED

Washington, April 19.—Right in the face of a threatened diplomatic break between the United States and Germany, Ambassador von Bernstorff today demanded of Secretary of State Lansing the return to him of papers seized by federal agents when Wolf von Igel was arrested in New York. Von Igel is charged with plotting to blow up the Welland Canal.

Secretary Lansing agreed to have the papers returned, agreeing they they were of a diplomatic nature and should not have been seized.

Von Igel, former secretary to Captain von Papen, recalled German military attache, will be held by the federal authorities on charges of plotting to destroy the Welland Canal, notwithstanding his plea that he is immune from arrest because of diplomatic position, it was learned at the Department of Justice today.

PAID BY VON PAPEN.

It is said that since Von Papen's recall, Von Igel has been handling routine matters to which the former military attache was assigned. Although less than thirty years of age, Von Igel, it is said, is one of Von Bernstorff's most trusted aides.

"It is poppycock to say that any Tom, Dick and Harry can claim immunity from arrest because of connections, however remote, with a foreign embassy," declared Roger B. Wood, after Von Igel had been released on a $20,000 bond secured by a surety company.

Von Igel, Mr. Wood said, received a regular monthly salary of $238 from Von Papen. The government is in possession of a number of checks signed by Von Papen and given to Von Igel. A number of them were drawn on the banking firm of Knauth, Nachod & Kuhne.

The arrest of the alleged "bagman" was made under dramatic circumstances. Assistant Division Superintendent Joseph A. Baker, with three agents, went to the Wall street office early Tuesday morning. Mr. Baker left two of his men at the door of Von Igel's office, and with the fourth agent entered the office.

A huge Teuton, apparently a bodyguard, was in the outer office. Baker sent his card in to Von Igel. The bodyguard returned in a moment and told him he would have to state his business. Baker pushed past and entered the inner office.

Von Igel, short, stocky and immaculately attired, was seated at a desk. With him was George von Skal, a former associate of Von Papen.

CLOSES SAFE.

Before a word was spoken by the government agent, Von Igel jumped for a large safe which stood in a corner of the room. Before Baker could prevent it he had closed the safe and given the tumbler a half turn.

Baker told the German he was under arrest.

"You have no right to do this," Von Igel shouted. "This is German territory. I am in the employ of the German embassy."

NANTASKET SEASIN OPENS WITH RUSH

The Nantasket season opened with a rush today, several thousand people visiting the beach, although the official opening is not until May 30.

A great part of those who went to Nantasket today were cottage owners, or those intending to secure places for the Summer. The first boat from Boston carried more than 1,000 passengers.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Advertisement.

Must Defend U. S. Principles, Says S. A. R. President

"War is not an unmitigated evil," asserted President Frank Ernest Woodward in his annual address today, before the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in the Old South Meeting House.

"We, the sons of the American Revolution, must keep those principles in the forefront for which our forefathers fought so bravely," he continued. "There are undesirable types of civilization around us. One of the countries in the European war has shown as much as this.

"Our American ideals are in danger. They are challenged by many of the inhabitants of Massachusetts who are foreign-born and whose ideas of government are different from our own.

"All wars are not wrong. We are not for perpetual peace, as we cannot shut our eyes to the principles for which this great republic was organized."

WOMEN SHOULD GET THIS HABIT AS WELL AS MEN

Don't eat bite of breakfast until you drink glass of hot water.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous, and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitude of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.—Advertisement.

U. S. READY TO SEIZE PLOTTERS

By International News Service.

Washington, April 19.—Wholesale arrests of alleged plotters against the United States will take place within twenty-four hours if diplomatic relations with Germany are broken off.

It was learned today that officials of the secret service and the Department of Justice have under close espionage more than 200 men in various parts of the United States, among them consular agents of the German government, who are alleged to have been parties to a gigantic conspiracy in violation of American neutrality.

That arrests have not previously been made has been due to the delicate international situation.

PROVED BY DOCUMENTS.

The first move by this government will be against the gigantic secret service organization which Germany has maintained in the United States since the commencement of the war. This organization has been energetically operated under the direction of men known to be directly responsible to German governmental agencies and has spent money lavishly to oppose everything that might aid the cause of the allies.

Practically every violation of American neutrality which American officials have discovered has been traced to directors of this secret service, it was stated at the Department of Justice. The arrest of Wolfe von Igel, private secretary to Captain Franz von Papen, former military attache of the German embassy at Washington, resulted in the seizure of papers which furnish an additional connecting link between the Germans placed to do such work as the blowing up of the Welland Canal, the amassing of huge stores of ammunition in this country, the placing of bombs on ships leaving American ports and the destruction of munition factories, and the high German officials who have been supervising the general work. These papers are in the hands of the United States District Attorney at New York.

SEE MEXICAN PLOT.

The administration is particularly surprised at the activity of Von Igel, which shows that Von Papen, upon being ousted from the United States, made arrangements with Von Igel to perform the very work for which he had been expelled.

Evidence secured by the department tends to prove, it is alleged, that despite the many rebukes given by the United States to German officials, the alleged unneutral activities of these men are continuing with unabated vigor. Every move made by the American government to stamp out German activities has resulted in an apparent increase of the German forces working in this country.

The department's new evidence includes proof of the expenditures of huge sums of money by Germans in this country to advance the interests of their nation. Grave charges of German interference with the Mexican policy of the United States also are before the department.

AN APPEAL.

I'm only a cavalry charger,
And I'm dying as fast as I can
(For my body is riddled with bullets—
They've potted both me and my man);
And though I've no words to express it,
I'm trying this message to tell
To kind folks who work for the Red Cross—
Oh, please help the Blue one as well!

My master was one in a thousand,
And I loved him with all this poor heart
(For horses are built just like humans,
Be kind to them—they'll do their part);
So please send out help for our wounded,
And give us a word in your prayers;
This isn't so strange as you'd fancy—
The Russians do it in theirs.

I'm only a cavalry charger,
And my eyes are becoming quite dim
(I really don't mind though I'm "done for,"
So long as I'm going to HIM);
But first I would plead for my comrades,
Who're dying and suffering, too—
Oh, please help the poor wounded horses!
I'm sure that you would—if you knew.

Leaders Called in U-Boat Crisis

At left, Senator Stone; right, Representative Flood, respectively Senate and House chairmen of Foreign Relations Committee, in conference today with President Wilson on crisis with Germany.

History of the Controversy with Germany Upon Submarine Warfare

On Feb. 4, 1915, the German government issued a proclamation declaring the waters around the British Isles a war zone, and giving notice that, after Feb. 18, all merchant ships owned by the enemy powers would be sunk.

On Feb. 19, the United States sent a note of protest against Germany's submarine warfare, on the ground that Americans traveling on British and French ships would be imperilled.

On May 7 the liner Lusitania was sunk with the loss of about 1,200 lives, more than 100 of the victims being Americans. Six days later the United States sent a note to Germany protesting against the method employed in the submarine campaign and against the destruction of the Lusitanit, which was not given any warning. The note stated that Germany could not expect the United States to omit any word or act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of safeguarding American lives at sea.

EXCHANGE OF NOTES.

Then began an exchange of notes between the United States and Germany, with the United States maintaining that the German government would be held to strict accountability. The German government on May 28, 1915, set up the contention that the Lusitania was armed and was carrying munitions (contraband of war). On June 10 the United States denied that the Lusitania was armed and insisted that Germany make proper reparation, promise not to sink any more ships without warning, and give guarantees that suspected ships be searched and warned before any attack be made upon them.

The German answer to this note was tendered on July 9. It suggested that Americans not imperil themselves by taking passage upon merchant ships owned by England and carrying contraband of war, but use ships flying the United States flag.

On August 19, the Arabic was torpedoed off Fastnet, two Americans losing their lives. Nine days later Count von Bernstorff promised full satisfaction for the Arabic and on September 1 announcement was made that Germany accepted the American contention in the submarine controversy. Two days later Germany offered counter-proposals that American claims in the Arabic case be submitted to the Hague tribunal for adjudication.

In the meantime Germany was delaying a reply to another United States note relative to the Lusitania and the submarine policy in general which the United States had submitted on July 21, and the United States asked for an immediate answer.

SUSSEX THE LATEST.

On September 10 Germany replied with explanations and promises. On October 5, Count von Bernstorff presented a note to the United States conceding disavowal and reparation in the Arabic case.

The controversy continued with periods when an agreement seemed near and others when a break seemed imminent.

On February 11 last Germany announced that she would sink all armed liners.

On February 24 President Wilson sent a letter to Senator Stone, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, announcing that the attitude of this country toward the submarine question had not changed, and that "he would not consent to the abridgement of the rights of American citizens at sea."

In the meantime notes were sent protesting against the sinking of ships on which Americans were voyaging, the latest pertaining to the channel liner Sussex.

Germans Feel Break Now Is Inconceivable

By International News Service.

Washington, April 19.—Officials at the German embassy regard it as "inconceivable" that a break between the United States and Germany should be forced, as the case now stands between the two countries.

This was the statement made by a high German authority. The very fact that the President today is to consult with members of Congress is cited as an indication that he can hardly have reached a final decision as to breaking off diplomatic relations with Germany.

The report that Count von Bernstorff was given his passports was denied at the State Department.

ASK REASONABLE DELAY.

The authority referred to stated:

Such action has not been taken. The report is absurd.

It would be more than a surprise if the United States government should take any action provocative of unforeseen circumstances simply upon a comparison of what Germany has been able to state to the United States in its last note, and what the United States has in the way of evidence.

It would seem not only reasonable but also fair that no positive action should be taken until after Germany has replied to the note which I hear is being prepared by this government.

GERMAN POSITION.

1 That no promise ever was made to this country by Germany that merchant vessels of belligerent nationality would be immune from submarine attack without warning. The pledge related to "liners" only, which are defined as passenger vessels. Therefore, Germany contends, she has never violated her word as given to this government.

2 That Americans who accept service on board belligerent-owned merchant vessels are not neutral. It was stated Germany probably will contend that American seamen who ship on foreign merchant vessels take on the character of the time of such nationals of the country whose flag the ship flies. The United States Supreme Court, it was said, has held that such persons "owe temporary allegiance" to such country.

3 That the cause of Germany's warfare upon enemy merchant shipping is the British order-in-council, the purpose of which is to starve Germany illegally by blocking her from all commerce with the world. Germany, it was said, would be willing to end submarine attacks upon merchant ships if Britain should abolish her unlawful policy.

The attitude of Germany in the disputed Sussex case, as obtained from both Ambassador Gerard and from competent German sources, is that it should be settled through diplomatic channels.

So far as can be ascertained from reliable German and American sources, Germany was, and is willing, upon the presentation of proof of violation of law, to make amends to the United States government.

MAY HUNT GRAVE OF ARNOLD GIRL

Providence, R. I., April 19.—Octave C. Ginoures, the convict who claims to have helped bury the mysteriously missing Dorothy Arnold in a cellar in West Point, will be released under guard, and loaned to the New York police to go over the ground and point out the house in West Point, as soon as the New York police see fit to make such a request, according to officials here today.

No formal request of this nature has been made by the New York police, although a stenographic report of the confession was forwarded to the inspector's department of the New York police at the request of Inspector Faurot.

Attorney-General Rice, who has also been much interested in the confession, also declared that his department would not only offer no obstacles to any test by the New York police of the convict's story, but would be eager and willing to help clear up the mystery.

"We will do anything in our power," Mr. Rice declared. "The New York police need only ask. They have not yet become sufficiently interested to want more than a transcript of the statement of Ginoures. What the man says seems to ring true to us."

The official record of the confession was taken by Inspector John A. Henry and Stenographer James R. Wolf, and signed by Ginouris. This transcript was forwarded to Inspector Faurot.

Among other telegrams received by the Providence police was one from the New York State Reformatory at Elmira, N. Y. It read simply:

"Edward C. Ginoures, alias Edward G. Glenarri, paroled December 12, 1910, discharged June 30, 1911.
(Signed) P. J. McDONNELL,
Elmira Reformatory."

It was the afternoon of December 12, 1910, that Dorothy Arnold left her home, never to return.

IRISHMEN PROTEST WAR

The prospect of a war with Germany was assailed at the meeting in Faneuil Hall today of the Friends of Irish Freedom, and a resolution was adopted asking the President of the United States to allow no forces or agencies to drive him into entangling alliances with European belligerents.

Following is the resolution, which was unanimously passed:

> The Friends of Irish Freedom, in congress assembled in the Cradle of Liberty, Faneuil Hall, Boston, on this the anniversary of the birth of American liberty, earnestly request the President of the United States to preserve the peace of the Republic; to permit no forces or agencies to drive him into entangling alliances for or against any of the European belligerents and to look to Washington and the fathers for guidance. We protest against any action that will divide our people and imperil the peace and integrity of our country.

Copies of this resolution were immediately wired to the President and members of Congress in the hope that the messages would arrive before Congress met at 1 o'clock today.

The meeting was pro-German and anti-allies throughout. England especially was criticised and the criticisms directed against that country were freely applauded.

HEAR NOTED SPEAKERS

The list of speakers included former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell of Boston, Judge John W. Goff of New York, Judge John J. Rooney of New York, Judge Daniel F. Cohalan of New York, Judge Patrick H. O'Donnell of Chicago and former Mayor James K. Maguire of Syracuse, N. Y.

In opening the meeting City Collector John J. Curley, brother of Mayor Curley, said:

"It is the purpose of this meeting to inculcate principles to secure the freedom of the Irish race."

Mrs. Ellen Ryan Jolly, national president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., was escorted to the platform amid applause. Temporary Secretary Francis J. Horgan and temporary clerk, Frank J. McLaughlin, were elected to these offices permanently. John F. Kelley of Pittsfield was introduced by former Congressman O'Connell as temporary chairman. In assuming office Mr. Kelley said:

"The same spirit of subservience to England is manifested in the hunting down for newspaper exploitation of alleged German conspiracies, while English spies flood the land and recruiting for English purposes takes place without let or hindrance.

WARNING TO COUNTRY.

"This meeting is a notification to the representatives of Massachusetts in Congress that the blue lighters do not voice her sentiments; that she is not English, but thoroughly American.

"And it is a warning to the national administration that the country will not allow itself to be dragged into war on the pretext of safeguarding reckless adventurers who, disregarding their duties to America and their fellow citizens, wantonly enter the war zone on belligerent vessels, and that the country will damn in everlasting infamy whosoever seeks to involve it."

Joseph P. Lomasney was elected treasurer and the following committee chairmen were chosen: Credentials, Dr. Frank A. Underwood of Worcester; organization, Matthew N. Cummings; resolutions, Francis A. Campbell.

Mayor Curley spoke briefly, saying:

"I believe in justice. Justice should be the lot of Belgium and Servia. Justice should be the lot of the Jews, Poland and Ireland. Ireland's rights to justice should receive prime consideration because she has suffered longest. The man or men who would force a plot on our country are not faithful to the teachings of the fathers of the American Republic."

Former Congressman O'Connell, permanent chairman.

"It should not be forgotten that Massachusetts has more Irish blood in her citizenship than any other State in the Union, and it is most fitting, therefore, that she should first speak on this momentous proposition.

"As American citizens, proud descendants of the race of our fathers, glorying in the Irish blood which courses through our veins, we cherish the God-given gift of liberty and freedom, and permit none to go before us in maintaining the permanence of our glorious republic. No sacrifice is too great for us to meet to preserve it. Irish genius, valor, money and blood helped in great part to establish this republic, and again played a predominant part in preserving it against the forces of armed rebellion, and we may be counted on now and forever to insure its future, be the cost what it may.

URGES ONE LAW FOR ALL.

"The honor and dignity of this country must be upheld at all times and against all wrongs, whether they consist of violations of International conventions, which result in the loss of lives or of acts of English brutality that disregard every law that restrains English license, be it the dragooning of American boys into her service, the wilful destruction of neutral commerce, the seizure of our ships or the opening of our mails.

"We have no national concern in the outcome of the terrible struggle now involving nearly every nation in Europe, but we view with alarm the widespread English propaganda that unceasingly magnifies the offences of the Teutonic powers, whether real or imaginary while minimizing the deliberate violations by England of the rights of American citizens and their properties, which we know is for the deliberate purpose of ensnaring us into the war on the side of England to help her win a struggle which it is now evident she can never do without our open aid as an avowed enemy of Germany.

Dies at Age of 102.

Pittsfield, April 19.—Mrs. Oppoline Rheault, 102 years and 5 months old, is dead. She was active until a few weeks ago.

REPEAT REVERE'S RIDE

The most picturesque incident in the celebration of Patriots' Day today was the reproduction of Paul Revere's ride, over the original route, by Sergeant William L. Hamilton of Troop C, First Squadron Cavalry, M. V. M.

Clad in costume like that worn by his predecessor 141 years ago, Sergeant Hamilton started from North square at noon and rode to Lexington and Concord.

Today's version of the famous ride started from the house in North Square in which Paul Revere lived. Before the rider left the square there were preliminary exercises lasting about 15 minutes which included remarks on the significance of the day by Frank Leveroni of the Patriots' Day Committee and the reading of Longfellow's poem, "The Ride of Paul Revere," by Walter Lewis.

RIDES TO LEXINGTON.

Hamilton clattered across the Charlestown bridge to Sullivan square, to Cambridge street for a mile to where a tablet marks the place where Revere was intercepted by British officers and turned back to Sullivan square. He proceeded over Broadway to Winter Hill, to Main street, through Medford square, to West Medford, to Arlington and the Cooper Tavern on Massachusetts avenue, to Appleton street at Arlington Heights, to Paul Revere road and back into Massachusetts avenue, to Lexington Green, to Hancock street, to Hancock-Clarke House, where Revere woke up Hancock and Adams in 1775.

The members of the senior classes of the two North End public schools went to Lexington, visiting points of interest in that town under the guidance of members of the Lexington Historical Society. They will later write essays, previous to May 5, on subjects related to the day. The boy and girl writing the best papers, one from each school, will be awarded special medals.

The feature of the evening program in North Square will be the showing of moving pictures of local and historical subjects, including "Boston Tea Party," "Minute Men of Lexington" and a two-reel feature, showing Paul Revere's Ride.

The plans for the observance of the holiday in Boston were made with the approval of Mayor Curley and Director of Public Celebrations Dever by the Patriots' Day Committee of the Citizens' Public Celebration Association, composed of James P. Munroe, Frank Leveroni, Daniel A. MacKay, John A. [illegible].

PARADE A FEATURE.

In Lexington and Concord the celebration began at sunrise with the firing of salutes, ringing of bells and raising of flags. In Lexington an early morning parade over Paul Revere's route in that town was held, which was followed by athletic events, including the third annual "Paul Revere Marathon."

The feature of the day in Lexington was the military preparedness parade, which started at 2 o'clock from Munroe station, headed by mounted Lancers, a platoon of police and Teel's band. This parade was reviewed by Governor McCall and his staff, and the roster included the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the Fusiliers and other veteran organizations, and four militia companies.

The roster also included the Lexington Drum Corps, the Minute Men, G. A. R. delegation, Sons of Veterans, Cadets and Color Guard.

The route was along Massachusetts avenue, Clark street, Parker street and Massachusetts avenue to the Green, where the four militia companies set up shelter tents and served mess as in camp.

The invited guests and officers, at the same time, were served in Historic Hall.

The Minute Men offered a trophy to the militia company making the best general appearance in set-up drill and in setting up pup tents on the Green. The judges were Captain Charles Randlett, Captain John Kenney of the Lancers, and Captain Harold [illegible] of the First Corps Cadets.

The parade halted at Grant street to allow the selectmen and guests to proceed to the Town Hall steps, where they held a review, and again at Hancock School to allow the staff to take its place in line.

At the Green, the space between the monument and the Boulder, was reserved for the militia maneuvres, the staff assembling at the Boulder.

Thin Men and Women

Here's a Safe and Easy Way by Which You May Gain 10 Pounds or More of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. A splendid way to overcome this sinful waste of these flesh-building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to try Sargol, the famous flesh-building agent that has been so widely used in America in recent years. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and see if your cheeks don't quickly fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh form over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. All good druggists have Sargol or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each large package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

Davis Leaves Half of $250,000 Estate to Widow

By International News Service.

White Plains, N. Y., April 19.—Richard Harding Davis, the author and war correspondent, who died on April 11, left an estate valued at $250,000. One of the provisions of his will, which was filed here, is that Mrs. Davis, who was Bessie McCoy, the actress, shall have half of the income of the estate "as long as she remains my widow."

After making provision for the division of his personal property between his widow, his sister, Mrs. Nora Davis Farrar of Turgoose, B. C., and his brother, Charles Belmont Davis, of New York, the will provides that the remainder of the estate shall be turned over to a trustee, who is to pay the income to the widow until their daughter, Hope, is twenty-one years old. Then one-half the income goes to the daughter and the balance to Mrs. Davis, contingent upon her remaining unmarried. In case of Mrs. Davis' remarriage the income goes to the daughter.

Gaby's Salary Too Big, So Her Show Is Closed

By International News Service.

New York, April 19.—Poor Gaby Deslys is out of a job. It's not because she isn't a good drawing card. But she asks too high a salary.

Time was when Gaby drew down her $4,000 a week as star of the Dillingham Revue, "Stop! Look! Listen!"

That, however, was only for twenty weeks. Then her contract expired. The management could not see enough prosperity ahead to continue Gaby's contract, so when the twenty weeks were up the show closed.

TAKE MEN FROM U. S. VESSEL

By International News Service.

Washington, April 19.—Official reports have been received by the State Department that a British cruiser had held up the American ship Henry in Philippine waters and removed two alleged German subjects.

State Department officials describe it as one of the most flagrant violations of American rights on the high seas so far committed by Britain.

British officers who boarded the vessel searched her from keel to deck, breaking open boxes and invading private property. These facts were reported to the State Department six days ago, but for some reason have been kept secret.

The whole of the Philippines is kept under close observation by British warships, according to officials. It is declared the recent removal of thirty-eight Germans, Austrians and Turks from the American steamer China was only one instant indicating that Britain has embraced the American possessions in the Pacific in her system of espionage.

The State Department admitted today that none of the many complaints this government has made to England has been satisfactorily answered.

The State Department cannot explain the failure of Britain to reply to the American protest against the illegality of the British order-in-council, which are declared to be arbitrary and without justification either in law or in necessity.

This government is also at a loss to understand the British disinclination to respond satisfactorily to its protest against the blockade.

Great Britain's reply to this government's note on mail seizures has left this issue unsettled.

Maxwell

Consistency

YOU want a motor car that will serve you consistently. You want to know that your car can be relied upon day in and day out. You want high mileage per gallon of gasoline and freedom from repairs and readjustments. And you want these things, not occasionally, but continuously—day after day.

On these qualities the Maxwell has made good. It has proved its worth. When the Maxwell stock touring car set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record a short time ago it travelled for 44 consecutive days and nights and its performance was consistent.

It went about 500 miles each and every day. It went within a small fraction of 22 miles to every gallon of gasoline. It went the whole distance of 22,000 miles—probably further than you would travel in two years—without any repairs or readjustments. Every one of eight tires (two sets) went just about 9,800 miles and the others finished in good shape. For consistency and reliability this record far excels anything we ever heard of.

You can get a Maxwell, an exact duplicate of the record breaking stock car, on the partial payment plan we have perfected. SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT in which we answer many inquiries regarding our Boston store and give notice that the home of

Georges

Model Clothes

For Men and Young Men

Continues As Heretofore

at 384 Washington Street, Corner Franklin

WHEN the Board of Directors of the Georges Corporation announced at the first of this year that this store would be discontinued, it was with the greatest reluctance and regret—as the Boston branch has always been one of the most active and popular in the Georges chain. But, in spite of an increased gross business in 1915, it absolutely failed to show a profit.

The result of the year's business was rather a puzzle to us—in view of the fact that we were positive that our values were unmatchable and our customers seemed thoroughly satisfied.

When we began making preparations for clearing stocks, Mr. Georges came from New York and devoted his time to the Boston store—QUICKLY MAKING THE DISCOVERY THAT INCOMPETENT MANAGEMENT was the cause of excessive cost of doing business and the extravagances of loose systems.

Accordingly a change was quickly made—Mr. Georges placing in charge of the Boston store one of the best and most efficient managers in the entire chain of stores, who immediately established a broad co-operative plan of compensation between this company and its employees, and eliminated all leaks in the store's routine.

The sales of the past 30 days have been most gratifying—and show a marked increase in volume of business, and so it has been made possible and profitable for Georges to continue at this old corner, which has become so popular with over 50,000 Boston men, and maintain the high Georges standard of values.

It has certainly been good to hear the thousands of expressions of regrets that we had to discontinue—and to receive so many inquiries as to whether we would open new quarters in Boston. To be genuinely missed is proof of real achievement. To say that we are gratified is stating it mildly. We are proud, and even more delighted, that we are now able to continue at the old stand.

In passing let us mention that we are ushering IN THE BRIGHT EASTERTIDE with

The Most Brilliant Showing of Every garment the product of our own custom shops—and modelled to duplicate the newest expressions of fashion as created by New York's Fifth Ave. style originators.

The wisdom of Georges plan of working 6 to 9 months in advance of the wearing season is more forcibly demonstrated this Spring than ever before. All our materials were bought before the recent tremendous price advances. Consequently, Georges superiority in value-giving over other stores is sharply accentuated this season.

CARRANZISTAS THREATEN U. S. FORCE

how many troops were sent was not made public.

The Mexican situation today is at the gravest stage since troops crossed the border. It is much more critical than when marines landed at Vera Cruz. The belief prevails in San Antonio, Texas, that Germany stirred up the Villa episode in order to precipitate the submarine showdown at a time when the United States military resources were tied up in Mexico.

Despite the excuse of shortage of fodder, it is obvious that Major General Funston's shift of border troops to Columbus and the recall of the advance cavalry south of Satevo was necessitated because General Pershing was sorely menaced by citizenry and Carranzistas made exceedingly bold by the Parral incident.

Combined incidents demonstrate to General Funston's satisfaction that the pretended Carranzista co-operation amounts to nothing. It cannot be depended upon and Carranzistas are ready to take the slightest pretext to become openly hostile.

TO ATTACK U. S. TROOPS

By orders of General Alvaro Obregon, Minister of War in the Carranza government, American soldiers will be attacked should they enter any Mexican city or town in the future. Word to this effect was brought to the border today by American refugees.

The attitude of General Obregon was shown in a proclamation posted in Parral after the recent clash there in which two American soldiers were killed.

The proclamation, a copy of which was brought out by one of the refugees and given to Lieutenant Coats on guard at the international bridge, El Paso, to be turned over to General Bell, refers to the Parral fight as a lamentable affair caused by United States troops entering the city without permission. It concludes:

"As Mexicans we are called upon to defend our country. Any future attempt on the part of expeditionary forces to enter Mexican towns will be met with armed resistance."

The Mexican Foreign Office has telegraphed instructions to Ambassador Designate Arredondo at Washington directing him to press Secretary of State Lansing for an immediate reply to First Chief Carranza's note of last week demanding the withdrawal of the American troops from Mexican soil.

NEW VILLA DEATH VERSION.

A new version of the alleged death of Francisco Villa reached the border today. It came direct from the War Department at Mexico City and was to the effect that a woman had murdered the bandit leader while he lay helpless as a result of the wound which he suffered in a fight with Carranza soldiers. The woman, said an official dispatch, had been arrested, but had promised to reveal where Villa had been secretly buried and probably would be released.

The refugees who arrived at El Paso today from Parral and Chihuahua City could give no information with reference to the reported death of Villa, but they brought news of strong anti-American sentiment in the Parral district. This has been fostered by the claims that the American troops were ignominiously defeated in the Parral clash.

A. G. Urquhart, a mining man of Parral, said that the presence of American troops in that region was a menace to the friendly relations which have hitherto existed between Mexican natives and the Americans doing business in the Parral district.

Urquhart was a witness of the Parral fight, which started in the Parral plaza last Wednesday. He said Mexican women were aggressors in hurling stones and insulting soldiers, and that Carranza officers tried to prevent the battle. According to Urquhart, Major Theo Velasquez of the Carranza army was killed by one of the rear guard of the retreating Americans. He said that the Mexicans did not know Americans were coming to Parral, and misunderstood the purpose of the visit.

DOUBT VILLA'S DEATH.

The six Americans, one Italian and four Spanish business men in the party from Parral and Chihuahua without exception expressed their doubt of the report that Villa was dead and buried. They assert that the report has been current in Parral but has been discredited by both Mexicans and Americans, despite the fact that some of the Villistas who had been with the bandit previous to the Columbus raid circulated the rumors.

A Mexican who arrived on the same train declared that he was certain Villa was dead and buried near San Francisco de Borja. He said his information came from a Mexican who had been with Villa before his death.

General Funston's order placing 2,300 more men now along the border at the disposal of General Pershing, presumably to protect the line of communication from Columbus to Satevo and Parral has dispelled the fear that United States troops would be withdrawn from Mexico.

Continued embarrassment of the American military authorities is reported by shippers in El Paso who are unable to send consignments of hay to their Chihuahua representatives over the Mexican Central railroad.

GRAVE DEVELOPMENTS.

Grave developments in the Mexican situation were the subject of a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Baker at the White House, following a conference between Secretary Baker and Secretary Lansing.

The principal question discussed was whether a change of policy in the Mexican situation is demanded in the light of reports from General Pershing of the belligerent attitude of Carranza troops.

These reports indicated that General Pershing's expedition against Villa has been brought to a standstill by the opposition of the Carranza forces.

Secretary Baker said that no new orders had been sent to General Funston, either extending or limiting the pursuit of Villa.

General Pershing reported through General Funston that he had been warned against entering any Mexican towns, because the Carranza commanders would not be able to restrain their forces from attacking the Americans and could no longer

General Pershing also received information today of an attack on twelve motor trucks by a small band of Villistas. The engagement took place fifteen miles north of Satevo. The Villistas fired on the train from ambush. The fire was returned and the Villistas driven off with a loss of one killed. There were no American casualties and the trucks were undamaged.

General Pershing said today it was now apparent that it would require months to capture Villa. The formation of a secret service he declared may be necessary.

WAR SUMMARY

Overshadowing in importance, so far as the United States is concerned, any and all physical war operations in the Old World, was the diplomatic crisis at Washington today, with the President having a statement for Congress that might mean a break with Germany.

An added feature, so to speak, in the diplomatic snarl was the sharp protest by Ambassador Bernstorff against the arrest in New York of former Secretary von Igel of the German embassy and the seizure of his private papers.

The Russians announce the capture of Trebizond, the most important Turkish city on the Black Sea, which the Ottoman forces have been desperately trying to save from the combined efforts of the Czar's Caucasian army and Black Sea fleet. This capture means a great deal to the allies in the near East. Trebizond commands the trades routes westward from Persia and Central Asia to the Black Sea. Possession of the city and control of adjacent territory should enable the allies to isolate the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia. Petrograd hears that 50,000 Turks were captured when the city was taken.

There was a lively exchange of aerial attacks at the head of the Adriatic between Austrians on one side and combined French and Italian airmen on the other. This is the first known of French aviators joining Italians in a raid.

Berlin is to publish the names of 753 French officers and 39,881 men, which the Germans say they have captured since February 21 in the battles along the Meuse as an answer to semi-official French statements casting doubt on the German figures.

No U. S. Retreat in New Parral Story

Satevo, Chihuahua, April 14 (Via Aero to Namiquipa, April 17, and Wireless to Columbus, N. M., April 19).—General Pershing today received additional information of the attack on the American forces at Parral last Thursday, which resulted in the death of two Americans and forty Mexicans. The gist of the report to General Pershing, the source of which was not made public, follows:

"The Americans, under command of Colonel Brown of the Tenth Cavalry, had entered the city on their way to a camping spot beyond. Citizens of the town demanded that Colonel Brown remove his men in compliance with the provisions of the treaty.

"Before this could be done, however, the populace began throwing stones, and finally began firing from the house-tops. Machine guns of the Tenth were swung into position and the street cleared. Peace was soon restored and the dead gathered up and buried. General Gutierez, Parral commander, says he was not notified of the approach of the American forces.

Colonel Brown says this is untrue, as notice was given on the night of the eleventh by an aero squadron."

JEWS PRAY FOR EARLY PEACE IN EUROPE

By ALEXANDER BRIN.

Prayers for early peace to end the war in Europe went up from the hearts of thousands of Jews of Greater Boston at the Passover services held in the synagogues and temples this morning. Passover commemorates the birth of Israel as a nation, for it marks the liberation of the Jews from the fetters of Egyptian slavery.

In all the synagogues and temples, a plea was made by the rabbis for aid for the countless millions of Jews who are suffering because of the European war. It is understood that a large sum of money was pledged for this purpose.

To the Jew in America, the Passover sounds a note that is peculiarly appealing, for he knows what freedom means. In Europe, the Passover will not be a festival of joy to those whose lives have been embittered by the senseless, cruel slaughter, which engulfs more than one-half of the civilized world; it will not commemorate the exodus from Egypt, but the exodus from their own homes, from their own firesides to strange places.

STARVATION KNOCKS AT DOOR.

The tale of the oppression and the deliverance from Egyptian bondage will not be rehearsed in song and story. There can be no song, there can be no story, when starvation knocks at the door. The many folk songs characteristic of the Passover will be forgotten. The festival of liberty will, in many, many places, be changed into a week of mourning, lamentation. One who has the slightest human sympathy cannot read the reports which have just reached the local relief committee without being horror-struck at the lot of the Jews in Russia, Poland and Galician frontier.

Tortures such as the inquisition in Spain did not dream of are meted out to them, and for the single crime of being Jews.

To many of them death is the greatest boon that may be hoped for.

The New England branch of the American Jewish War Relief Committee, of which Louis D. Brandeis is chairman, and Louis E. Kirstein is vice-chairman, has issued a special Passover appeal for funds to the Jews of Boston. At the services there were special prayers for the homeless and hungry in the war zones.

FESTIVAL WIDELY OBSERVED.

Today is the second day of the festival. Yesterday and today are the most important days. Services were held in all the synagogues and temples.

Rabbi Herman H. Rubenovitz, who conducted the services this morning at the Temple Mishkan Tefila, Copeland and Moreland streets, Roxbury, delivered a sermon on "Some Lessons from the Haggadah." Rabbi P. Israeli spoke on "The Universal Appeal of Judaism," at the services at the Temple Adath Jeshurun, Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury.

Rabbi M. M. Eichler and Rev. E. Wolkowich conducted services at the Massachusetts Reformatory, Concord; Rabbi H. H. Rubenovitz and Rev. M. Magidson at the State Farm; Rabbi P. Israeli and Rev. M. Halpern at the State Prison, Charlestown; Chaplain M. L. Sedar at the Women's Reformatory, Sherborn, and the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley.

The Menorah Zionists of Chelsea have made elaborate preparation for a public Passover celebration to be held tomorrow night at the Chelsea Young Men's Hebrew Association Auditorium. The speakers include David A. Lourie, who is the honorary president of the organiaztion; Jacob De Haas, Joseph Resnick and Abraham Wirin, president of the organization. Emil Robbins, the director of the Menorah Zionists, will preside.

GERMANS TAKE NEW FRENCH POSITIONS

By International News Service.

London, April 19.—A further gain for the Germans northeast of Verdun was reported today by the German War Office.

The Germans, it was said, now hold all of the Steinbruch (Stone quarry) position south of Haudremont farm. Several machine guns were captured from the French. A French attack at Thiaumont farm, southeast of Steinbruch, was repulsed.

Following is the text of the German official report:

"West front—East of the Meuse we captured the Steinbruch position south of Haudremont farm, completing the partial success we had gained the day before. The occupants of the position fell in the fierce bayonet fighting. One hundred men and several machine guns were captured.

"A counter-attack by the French against our new lines Northwest of Thiaumont farm failed. Infantry detachments attempted to reach our trenches at several points, but were repulsed by our infantry and by our grenades."

The text of the official French communique follows:

"The night saw no important development on the entire front with the exception of a rather violent bombardment in the region south of Haudremont forest on the east bank of the Meuse."

British Seize Mails on Danish Steamer

By International News Service.

Berlin, April 19.—Dispatches from Copenhagen to the Trans-Ocean News Bureau state that the British removed all the first-class mail and parcels from the Danish steamer Botnia, which was bound from Copenhagen to a nearby Danish island.

"The newspaper Politiken declares that this is the worst violation of international law yet suffered by Denmark," says the report.

"Even considering that England up to now has abolished inviolability of the mails, this act is astounding, as the mail was in transit from one Danish port to another Danish port."

CALL CONFERENCE ON TURKISH CRISIS

By International News Service.

Amsterdam, April 19.—Immediately upon learning of the capture of Trebizond by the Russians, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Chancellor, summoned the Turkish ambassador to Germany for a conference, probably with the Kaiser, says a dispatch from Berlin. German correspondents on the frontier express the fear that the fall of Trebizond will demoralize the Turks and force them to ask for a separate peace.

ITALIANS PREVENT AIR RAID ON VENICE

By International News Service.

Rome, April 19.—News of a successful air raid on Trieste by an Italian and three French hydroplanes has been received here. The Austrians launched an aerial raid on Venice, it is also announced, but were driven off by the Italian guns, one of their machines being shot down into the sea and the two occupants, both of whom were officers, were made prisoners.

ADVANCE FRENCH CLOCKS ONE HOUR

Paris, April 19.—The Chamber of Deputies had decided to advance the official time in France one hour. It is expected that by this action huge economies will be made through the saving of daylight.

To End Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from perhaps total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75 cents worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—Advertisement.

Italian and French Planes Attack Trieste

By CAMILLO CIANFARRO,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Rome, April 19.—Italian and French seaplanes bombarded Trieste on Tuesday, the War Office announced today. This was the first time that it became known that French aviators are co-operating with the Italians in air operations.

The Austrians tried to make another aerial raid on Venice, but the machines were driven off and one was compelled to land.

Following is the text of the official report:

"Yesterday one Italian and three French seaplanes bombarded the military establishments in Trieste, returning safely to their base despite heavy fire directed against them.

"Four Austrian seaplanes attacked torpedo boats escorting the Italian and French aircraft. Four Italian hydroaeroplanes delivered a counter air attack, putting the Austrians to flight.

"During the night enemy planes approached Venice, but Italian machines rose to give battle and the Austrians had to flee, pursued by the Italians. One of the Austrian seaplanes was compelled to land, the occupants being made prisoners."

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN SALONICA BURNS

By International News Service.

Salonica, Greece, April 19.—German patrols have isolated the Greek posts at Docian and Akindjald by blowing up five bridges. The American school in this city was destroyed by fire today.

RUSSIANS HOLD ALL TURKISH ARMENIA

Petrograd, April 19.—All of Turkish Armenia is now in Russian hands as a result of the capture of Trebizond by the Caucasian army of Grand Duke Nicholas. The city proper was defended by 40,000 Turks, but there were about 60,000 in the entire district. The Russians captured many prisoners, 50,000 one report says, including a large number of Germans and more than a hundred guns. Some of the cannons were new Krupp guns which were recently sent from Germany.

Although Trebizond is nearly 600 miles from Constantinople, a serious obstacle in the way of a Russian drive against the Turkish capital has been removed by the capture of the important port city.

It is said that the Russians will now resume their southern advance against the Bagdad railway line and that offensive operations in Southern Persia will also be renewed.

News of the capture of the Turkish city caused much rejoicing throughout this city. Russian newspapers predict that Armenia, which has been the scene of so many massacres of Christians, will never again be under the Mohammedan yoke.

A big Russian fleet which co-operated with the land forces in the final assault against the Trebizond defences is now released for operations elsewhere and it is expected that another attack against Turkish works upon the Bosphorus will soon be launched.

Official dispatches from Tiflis say that the Turks fought gallantly, especially in the engagement on the Kara Dere, and lost heavily under the accurate fire of the Russian artillery and the withering blasts from the Russian machine guns.

Do You Possess Psychic Power?

Have you ever had premonitions that came true? Have you ever dreamed of events happening at a distance which turned out later to be real occurrences? Have you ever read a friend's thoughts?

These are manifestations of psychic power—or the power of receiving impressions too fine for the ordinary senses. Millions of women and thousands of men, possess it in some degree.

For the first time in the history of motion pictures, psychic force—running through the tangled threads of Love and Life—has been made the subject of a remarkable film drama.

The Mysteries of MYRA

This intense and vivid motion picture series—in which every episode interests and thrills until the startling and dramatic end—is the work of Charles W. Goddard, whom you already know as the originator of "The Perils of Pauline" and "The Exploits of Elaine." And Hereward Carrington, famous the world over as the greatest living expert on psychic phenomena, has contributed the knowledge of a lifetime to the picturization.

"The Mysteries of Myra" has been produced by Wharton, Inc., under the direction of Theodore and Leo Wharton, the most renowned directors of motion picture plays in the world.

You'll Never Forget These Stirring Episodes

It is an unforgettable film drama, not alone because of its amazing novelty or its picturing of strange and curious forces, but also because of the beauty and power of the great love story that runs through it.

In its swiftly moving scenes you will see just the things about which you have always been curious—spiritualistic seances, crystal gazing, thought-transference, automatic writing—all pictured with clear and dramatic vividness.

The First Episode Will Be Shown
NEXT MONDAY

The Story will appear as a Serial in the Sunday American

Read it—and then see the drama in the charm and grace of life at your favorite theatre

It is the newest idea in motion pictures, entirely different from anything ever before thrown on a screen.

It has cost hundreds of thousands of dollars to produce, for its scene of action is gigantic, and new and ingenious devices by the score were brought into being to make its production possible.

DEFEND USE OF YOUNG MEN IN CAFES

The directors of the New England Watch and Ward Society have issued a statement defending the employment of young men in their crusade against cafes and commercialized vice.

The cafes are termed "moral cesspools," but the moral risk of the agent is largely eliminated, according to the statement, if he goes to fight the wickedness there, and not for pleasure.

The statement says that owing to the practical immunity enjoyed by many Boston cafes a system of white slavery, known as the "cadet" system, has grown up. The means employed by the society to fight this system, it it said, have proved to be the only ones that can produce results.

Vice commissions all over the country condemn the cafe system as the initial step, and the directors state that it is absolutely impossible to carry on the reform by mere denunciation from the outside. Attention is called to the fact that court evidence must be secured, making it necessary for agents to enter these "immoral cesspools," as they were called by Judge Dowd.

The danger to which these men are exposed is no greater than Dr. Strong and his fellow physicians faced in fighting typhus in Serbia, according to the statement. The agents are all of them at least twenty-four years of age, it was claimed.

Well Known Boston Man Relates How Plant Juice Has Restored His Health.

The new stomach remedy, Plant Juice, is popular because it attacks, eradicates and removes all those prevailing ailments—stomach, liver and kidney trouble and blood diseases. Twenty-five per cent of city people are rendered unhappy or miserable and are incapacitated by these enervating, life-sapping diseases. Moping, half-hearted, dyspeptic men and women, with thick, slow-flowing blood, and yellow skins, coated tongue, touches of rheumatism, and, in fact, as one may express it, fagged out and run down, become life friends of Plant Juice as soon as they try it. It revitalizes the stomach, liver and kidneys and injects new life into those who take it.

Considerable talk has been stirred up locally by the wonderful relief that Mr. Robinson B. Victory of No. 56 Monument avenue has received by means of Plant Juice. Mr. Victory is one of the best known chefs in this city and is employed by a large hotel. He said:

"For about 25 years I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia, and all the medicines I had taken failed to give me any relief. I suffered so with gas that my stomach was all bloated and I could not keep anything on my stomach. I had palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, headaches, dizzy spells and became so nervous that I could not sleep at night. My case was given up as hopeless and I did not know what to do as my life had been one of continual misery. One day a friend urged me to try Plant Juice and I did so. After four bottles I feel now like a different man. I can eat anything and digest it, sleep well, have no more pains or aches and am glad to state that Plant Juice has cured me. I am glad to make this public statement, as I feel that it is a duty I owe to Plant Juice for my recovery to health."

The Plant Juice man is at the drug department of the Houghton & Dutton's Store, where he daily meets the public and introduces and explains this remedy.—Advertisement.

MISS ELSIE BURR.

In the Vincent Club show she is to have a role and a dance, and her work will be a big feature of the production. She is one of the younger set in society.

What promises to prove one of the most entertaining and novel features of the coming Vincent Club show will be the pantomime dance given by Miss Elsie Burr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, of Marlboro street, and a recent debutante.

Miss Burr's sister, Miss Barbara, was author of the production given by the club last year.

Miss Elsie will be the "Great God Budd" in the Chinese celebration in the second act, and her dancing promises to win the interest of all present. Miss Frances Hunt, in the same celebration, will take the part of the "Goddess Ho."

Miss Burr went abroad last year to act as a nurse in the French army. Previously she took a course in training in the Children's Hospital nurses' training school. She gives generously of her time to economical work, notwithstanding the demands of society affairs upon her.

SURPLUS OF WOMEN

The Duke of Manchester discusses what shall be done with England's surplus women after the war. Some new theories in Next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN.

HUNT EMPLOYE AS WOMAN'S SLAYER

The State and local authorities today made every effort to locate Gustaf Pearson, of Needham, who is being sought in connection with the killing of Mrs. Anna Pearson, the wife of his employer, Gustaf Pearson, of No. 846 Central avenue, Needham Heights.

The hired man was seen leaving the house through a window by sixteen-year-old Charles Carlson, a State ward, it was stated today.

It is the theory of the police that the farm hand may have headed for Texas, as he is known to have had an account in a bank in that State.

An autopsy was held today by Medical Examiner Frost. The woman, who was tall and good looking, was shot through the mouth. Her body was discovered by the State ward, who made his home with the Pearsons.

Mr. Pearson told Captain Proctor of the State police today that his wife informed him two weeks ago that the farm hand had insulted her. She told him she was afraid of the man, he said, and her sister was told the same thing.

The boy came in from play and stumbled over the body in the front room. He ran screaming from the house. Neighbors, who came back with him, found a thirty-two calibre revolver, with two cartridges fired, on the floor five feet from the body.

The Pearsons have lived in Needham Heights for some time. Although the woman's husband is a bricklayer by trade, and follows his trade whenever work offers, he maintains a fairly extensive dairy and truck products farm. He hired a hand to take care of the farm and the stock during his absence in the daytime. The missing hand had been employed by Pearson since last Fall.

2 ROXBURY CHILDREN SMOTHERED IN FIRE

Two children were suffocated in a fire at 71 Greenwich street, Roxbury. The blaze started in the closet of the bedroom where they were sleeping, while their mother had left the house for a few minutes on an errand.

The house is owned and occupied by Frank Williams, but the second floor is rented to A. Lemuel Dillard, whose children, Stella L., aged three, and Virginia H., five, lost their lives. The children were dead when rescued. The mother, who had returned at the sound of the fire engines, nearly collapsed when she found that both were dead.

The damage from the fire was estimated to be about $100. The pet cat of the children was suffocated with them.

'MASKED BALL' IS GALA EVENT AT OPERA

By FRED J. McISAAC.

They can't put out the "Standing Room Only" sign at the Boston Opera House, because there isn't any standing room; but all the sitting room was occupied last night again. The occasion was the first performance in Boston by the Metropolitan Opera Company of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera."

Toscanini headed a big cast, which included Gadski, Duchene, Garrison, Amato, Rothier and Segurola. Polacco conducted.

"Un Ballo in Maschera" is one of the most tuneful and attractive of the earlier operas of Verdi, but for reasons connected with the expense of providing seven first-class singers, it vanished from the repertory of American opera companies for a great many years.

The opera has had a curious history and possesses a peculiar interest for Boston, since the action is supposed to have taken place here in Colonial times.

LAYS SCENE IN BAY STATE.

It seems that Verdi's original libretto dealt with the assassination of Gustavus III., King of Sweden, but that the Neapolitan authorities prohibited its production on the ground that it might encourage indiscriminate slaughter of royalty.

The opera was held up for two years, and then got its production because the scene had been changed to Massachusetts, and the King turned into a Governor. As far as the Italian authorities were concerned, the librettists could assassinate all the Massachusetts Governors they desired.

But the sombre garb of the Puritans did not lend itself readily to opera, and most revivals during the last dozen years have restored the original locale of the opera so that silks and laces may be worn in more abundance.

The last time the opera was sung in Boston, it was given by the company at the Boston Theatre in October, 1911, when Lynnbrook, Blanche Fox, Ardini and Oppezzo, Blanchart, di Biasi and Florian occupied the leading roles. There was a poor chorus and worse orchestra, but the principal parts were well sung.

PRODUCED BY BOSTON COMPANY.

It was also given by the Boston Opera Company in Paris. Mme. Destinn, Maggie Teyte and De Cisneros sang the female roles, and Fontana, Aurona and Mardones were in the cast.

The potentate, whether Governor or King, you may take your choice, is slain by a jealous husband who is duped by conspirators. Dying, he forgives his murderer, a most unkingly act. The affair takes place at a masked ball, and the gaiety in the background contrasts wonderfully with the tragedy before the footlights.

"The Masked Ball" is full of ripe, rich melodies in the style of "Rigoletto" and "Trovatore." Verdi was not bothered much with music drama in those days, nor did he write heavily for his orchestra. There are big airs for dramatic and coloratura sopranos, for contralto, tenor, baritone and basso. One of the finest of all baritone songs is to be found in this opera. The tenor has luscious arias, with ringing high notes. Oscar, the page (a girl part), is given two exquisite songs. There are big trios, quartets and a quintets.

CARUSO SINGS ADMIRABLY.

Dramatic action is not in evidence, and the characters strut about in old school style, but how everybody, including the chorus, does sing!

Gadski, in the dramatic soprano part, was in good voice, but got out of tune at important moments. Caruso sang with admirable tone. Amato was in splendid voice and got an ovation after "Eri tu."

Mabel Garrison is not an expert enough singer for the brilliant music of the page, but was winsome in her knickerbockers. Rothier and Segurola, as the conspirators, sang with spirit, and Polacco conducted finely. The ballroom scene was very gorgeous.

M'CALL SIGNS MILITIA BILLS

Governor McCall has signed the bill to provide that any State employe who is a member of the militia may attend the annual tour of duty without loss of pay or loss of vacation.

Massachusetts is said to be the first State in the Union to adopt this policy. As the big business corporations of the State have adopted this same system of encouraging their employes to join the militia, Governor McCall thought the State could well emulate the example.

It is the second big step for preparedness taken by the State within a week. The first was the passage of the act to permit federalization of the State militia. In this Massachusetts is also the pioneer.

Governor McCall also has signed the bill to permit the State militia to receive the gift of any aeroplane. This legislation anticipates the proposed gift of a flying machine by the Aero Club. The bill appropriates $2,500 for the maintenance of the machine this year.

Other bills signed by the Governor provide:

To permit milk inspectors to take samples of milk anywhere in the State.

To make it unlawful to spread tar, oil or any similar substance on a public way unless a coating of sand, gravel or suitable material to make it safe is placed over it within three hours.

To allow life insurance companies to increase their maximum payments for deaths caused by injuries.

To permit the retirement of Boston school janitors on a maximum pension of $360 a year.

To provide a system of preferential voting for the city of Newton.

To extend to December 31, 1918, the time for the Southern New England to complete its line.

To allow selectmen to pass upon the bond given by tax collectors.

Still Sheling Hheims.

Paris, April 19.—The bombardment of Rheims continues intermittently. Saturday seventy-seven shells fell in the city. Sunday five shells fell within half an hour.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were weak in New York at noon, but the majority were above their lowest of the morning. While a few had not rallied at all, a number were at their highest. Leading houses bought at low levels in the second hour, but the improvement was due chiefly to covering of shorts. Bears were disappointed at the underlying strength shown by the market when under greatest pressure. First hour transactions totalled around 275,000 shares. Trading slackened in the second hour.

Declines at 12 o'clock included Anaconda 1½, Chino 1¼, Kennecott 1¼, Inspiration ¾, Tennessee 1⅜, Utah Copper 1, American Smelting 1¼, U. S. Smelting 2¼, United Fruit 2⅜, Maxwell 1⅝, Maxwell second preferred 3, Willys-Overland 5⅛, Studebaker 3⅝, Cuban-American Sugar 4¾, American Zinc 2⅜, Butte & Superior 2, Beet Sugar 1⅝, American Can 1⅜, Car & Foundry 2¼, American Locomotive 1⅝, Baldwin 3, Bethlehem 19, Colorado Fuel ½, Crucible 2⅝, Lackawanna Steel 2, Great Northern Ore 1⅛, Republic Steel 1⅛, U. S. Steel ⅞, Texas Co. 3, Mexican Petroleum 2, Marine preferred certificates ⅛, Distillers 2, Goodrich 1⅞, N. Y. Air Brake 3½, Industrial Alcohol 1⅞, Westinghouse 1⅝, Atchison 1⅛, Chesapeake & Ohio 1½, Erie 1, Lehigh Valley 1, N. Y. Central 1¼, Northern Pacific ⅞, Southern Pacific ⅜, Union Pacific 1¼, St. Paul 1 and Reading 1⅛.

New Haven had advanced ⅛.

Early business on the New York Cotton Exchange was the largest in many months. There were enormous offerings and the tone was weak, with prices 4 to 8 points lower. Continued pressure, after the call, resulted in further declines of from 6 to 9 points. Quotations at Liverpool were unchanged to a point higher.

WEAK AT THE OPENING.

Prices were lower in New York at the opening, declines ranging from fractions to nineteen points. Initial trading was active, but there was no unloading in bulk in the first few minutes. The weakness was due to knowledge that President Wilson will present the case against Germany to Congress at once. Imminence of a severance of diplomatic relations with the latter country was a big bear factor. But it did not cause the slump in prices which those who have been working for a decline expected. It was said by traders that the market has been for a week or more discounting a rupture with Germany.

Most of the selling pressure was upon war industrials. Among the weakest issues, all classes included, were American Zinc, Butte & Superior, Maxwell, Mexican Petroleum, Crucible Steel, Baldwin, Studebaker, United Fruit and Industrial Alcohol. All began more than a point below yesterday's final prices.

New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio and Canadian Pacific were the weakest railroads. All declined more than a point.

Coppers ruled fractionally lower at the start, except Utah Copper, which was off more than a point.

Mercantile Marine preferred certificates opened with a gain and continued to advance.

The opening decline of Bethlehem Steel was 19 points.

Early transactions were mostly in small lots, although there were big blocks sold. The bear raid failed to dislodge securities in any great quantity. At the end of thirty minutes trading diminished a little. But it was the busiest first hour the New York market has known for some time.

This being Patriots Day, the Boston Stock Exchange was closed.

A New York dispatch says: "After the start trading became orderly. The mass of room traders were disappointed in their expectations of a stampede of holders to unload stocks. There was a buying demand, and prices after initial losses made substantial recoveries. The war order issues were again subjected to bear pressure, and stop orders were reached as usual."

How To Get Rid Of Indigestion

Don't Rely on Artificial Digesters, Don't Go on Freak Diet, Common Sense And an Antacid Usually All That Are Needed.

If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach, belching, distress after eating, heartburn or any other stomach trouble due to an excess of acid in the stomach you should take no pepsin pills or artificial digesters to correct the trouble. Such a practice weakens the stomach and creates chronic dyspeptics and often life long misery. Neither should you half starve yourself by going without the nutritious food that you need to rebuild waste tissues. Some foods are not good for people even when in perfect health—very rich, sweet, highly seasoned dishes. Avoid these, but eat fairly substantial meals of plain foods. Eat slowly. Even if you drink nothing but water, you should not drink with meals. Drink before and after eating. If you will follow these simple instructions it is probable your stomach will never trouble you so that you will never need medicine for it, provided you will also make a practice of taking a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little water after meals. If your stomach contains too much acid your food ferments, and sours and causes pain or discomfort. Bisurated magnesia taken into the stomach after meals not only dissolves or neutralizes the acid already present in the stomach but sweetens the food contents so that it will digest naturally and easily. Even many cases of so called chronic dyspepsia have yielded easily to this simple harmless treatment. Druggists everywhere keep magnesia in various forms and for various purposes, so be careful to get only the bisurated magnesia which comes especially prepared for the stomach.

SEEK POSTMASTER; SHORTAGE CLAIMED

Frank I. Pearson, postmaster at Leominster, is absent from his office, and the claim is made by the post-office inspectors of a discovery last Saturday of a shortage of approximately $1,500 in the funds of Pearson's office.

Friday Postoffice Inspector Hart and Madden went to Leominster to examine the accounts in the office there. No defalcation was suspected at the time, the examination being made in the regular course of business.

At noon Friday Pearson, according to the inspectors, left his office. Pearson failed to return, it is claimed, but nothing was thought of this. As the inspectors continued their examination of the books they began to uncover the shortage of about $1,500, which covered a period of three months, it is claimed.

Pearson was appointed in October, 1914, as postmaster. He is prominent in politics of the town of Leominster and president of the Board of Trade. It was announced a warrant charging larceny has been issued for Pearson's arrest.

SAYS WAITE ADMITS HE IS DEGENERATE

New York, April 19.—"Dr. Arthur Warren Waite has admitted that he has been a thief all his life and a degenerate."

This was the statement of District Attorney Swann in announcing that Drs. Smith Ely Jelliffe, Menas S. Gregory and William Mabon, alienists selected by the State, had rendered their report.

"They say," said Mr. Swann, "that he is sane, but of a criminal type. He knew what he was doing when he murdered his father-in-law, John E. Peck, and knew that it was wrong."

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. —Advertisement.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

LAYS BRADFORD WRECK BLAME ON NEW HAVEN

By International News Service.

Westerly, R. I., April 19.—The fifth victim of the Bradford wreck was finally identified as Howard Partello, thirty-two, a fireman in the employ of the New Haven Railroad. He was a passenger on the New London local which was hit by the Gilt Edge Flyer.

Dr. Michael H. Scanlon, medical examiner, who will testify before Coroner Kingsley at Bradford today regarding his investigation of the wreck, made this statement:

> I shall lay the blame upon the New Haven Railroad.
> I have every reason to believe that the engine that drew the local was not only defective, but about ready for the junk heap.
> Had that engine not refused to pull the train off the main track and on to the siding, there would have been no crash.
> Every effort was made to run the locomotive back to New London immediately after the wreck.
> I do not care to say that the railroad intended putting it in shape again so that it could not be said that the railroad equipment was at fault.
>
> But the fact remains that, during the excitement, they sneaked the engine away. We caught it in time.
> It is now interned in the midway yards near New London. It is there, mute evidence of its worthlessness.

Dr. Scanlon says that the investigation will vindicate Engineer Mansfield.

He further declared that he would testify that his investigations satisfied him that, had the two rear cars of the local train been steel instead of wood, it is quite probable that there would have been no fatalities.

It was announced today at the New Haven road offices that no notice had been received of a hearing on the wreck by Interstate Commerce Commission in New Haven today, and that it was understood the investigation would be held in Providence, but that the time and place had not been definitely set.

City Official a Suicide.

Glens Valley, N. Y., April 19.—Sterling F. Higley, city chamberlain since 1910, killed himself with a revolver in his office. Auditors have been investigating his accounts.

BELIEVE COLE WILL BE AIDE TO BAKER

The hurried departure of Adjutant-General Charles H. Cole for Washington gave rise to the report in political circles that the State Militia chief might be appointed Assistant Secretary of War by President Wilson.

General Cole left shortly after Governor McCall signed the bill to permit federalization of the State militia.

This makes the second consecutive time that Hatch, veteran of thirty-eight Marathon grinds, has finished third. His time was 2:28:30.

Kyronen should have won the race. He failed to make his jump at the proper minute. As a result he was unable to catch up with the fleet Dorchester youth who led almost from the start.

REMARKABLE SPURT

Between Chestnut Hill avenue and the finish line Kyronen made up more than 2 minutes. His spurt was the most remarkable feature of the race.

In company with Kyronen, Hatch, Corkery, Jamieson, Henigan, Foley and other cracks, who had been picked as possible winners, loafed too long and permitted Roth literally to run them off their feet.

After passing Lake street Roth was almost a mile in front of the second man. When Coolidge Corner was reached his margin was but slightly less.

Between Brookline and the junction of Commonwealth avenue and Beacon streets Kyronen made a wonderful spurt which very nearly won him the race.

The first half-dozen men to finish appeared in excellent physical condition. There was not one but what was able to spurt after turning into avenue.

TWENTIETH ANNUAL RUN.

This was the twentieth annual Marathon from Ashland to Boston, a distance of 25 miles, under direction of the Boston Athletic Association.

It is not since Timothy Ford of Cambridge snatched a Marathon victory away from D. J. Kneeland of Roxbury by a bare six seconds, back in 1906, that a crowd jammed in front of the B. A. A. clubhouse on Exeter street has seen so hot a finish.

The track was hard and fast, the weather ideal, the 25-mile double line of spectators enthusiastic.

The first men in, with their times were:

1—Arthur V. Roth, Dorchester Club—2:27:16 2-5.

2—Villar Kyronen, Millrose A. A., New York city—2:27:27.

3—Sidney H. Hatch, Illinois A. C., of Chicago—2:28:30.

4—James J. Corkery, Sportsmen's P. A., Toronto—2:30:34.

5—William D. Brown of Quincy—2:34:18.

6—Bill Kennedy, Bricklayers' A. C., Chicago—2:35:17 4-5.

7—John E. Phillips, Bronx Church House, New York, 2:39:59 3-5.

8—Arthur Lee Jamieson, Hamilton, Ont., 2:41:09 4-5.

9—M. J. Lynch, Carroll Institute, Washington, 2:41:22.

10—George B. Moss, Holy Cross Lyceum, New York, 2:43:39 2-5.

11—Leary Arthur Davis, U. S. Hunting C. A. A. A., Lowell, 2:45:24 1-5.

12—Hans Chr. Schultz, Swedish-American A. C., New York, 2:45:11 4-5.

13—Fred Travalena, Mohawk A. C., New York, 2:51:16.

14—John J. Mullen, Dorchester Club, 2:53:16.

15—George Kirkwood, Paulist A. C., New York, 2:53:09.

16—Oscar Janson, Swedish-American A. C., Brooklyn, 2:54:34.

17—Carl W. A. Linder, Quincy, 2:59.

Just at 12 noon George V. Brown's gun sent fifty-eight ambitious Marathoners off on the grind from Ashland to Boston.

In three lines the runners stood at the mark, awaiting the signal that sent them off. So thickly were they bunched at the start that one could scarcely tell who led off.

McCALL A REFEREE

Governor Samuel W. McCall appeared in Ashland about an hour before the start to serve as honorary referee. He was introduced to several entrants, then proceeded to the starting line with Colonel George B. Billings, the actual referee.

The Governor was photographed in the centre of a group of runners just before the starting gun was fired. Former Congressman Keliher stood by the Governor.

While the runners were at the line, preparatory to the start, Peter Foley, the octogenarian runner, was in a nearby field, getting ready to start on his own Marathon ten minutes after the regular race was off.

Friends of Foley made strong efforts to dissuade him from attempting the long and wearing race, but their talk did no good.

M. J. Lynch, Carroll Institute, Washington, was the first runner to reach Framingham, about five miles from the start, his time being 24 minutes and 18 seconds. Right behind him in order were Albert Ices of Dorchester, James A. McCurnin of Bayonne, N. J.; Karl G. Jepson of Quincy, and Herbert J. Robinson of New York.

Thousands of men, women and children were lined up along the course all the way in to Boston.

Arthur Lee Jamieson of Hamilton, Ontario, Arthur Roth of the Mohawk A. C. of New York City—who is not to be confused with Arthur V. Roth of Dorchester—and Charles Erikson of the Mohawk A. C. of New York, who were among the favorites, had places in the front of the triple-line formation for the start.

JAMIESON FIRST OFF.

Jamieson, with the maple leaf insignia of Canada over his heart, was first off.

The Indian stayed in front right into Ashland proper, with most of the field strung out behind.

B. J. Cassel of Bayonne, N. J., appeared to have a stitch in his side directly after the start. He dropped into a walk. Peter Foley, the octogenarian, plodding along in a race of his own, caught up with Cassel. The two continued side by side.

Over the first hill between Ashland and Framingham, Roth of Dorchester led, with the rest of the field trailing.

Jamieson and Proes, the Millrose A. A. runner from Manhattan, were close up, carrying Villar Kyronen, also of the Millrose, with them.

KIRWIN FORCED TO STOP.

One of the local runners, James J. Kirwin of East Boston, was forced to stop on this hill.

Roth of Dorchester led the runners through Natick, his time at that point being 46 minutes and 35 seconds, three minutes behind the record. Davis of Lowell was dogging Roth, and Bill Kennedy of Chicago was third.

From the start it shaped up as a quality race on account of the large proportion among the contestants of runners who had won fame and positions for themselves in previous B. A. A. marathons or in other long-distance events.

Hundreds of persons waited hours for the start of the great race at Stevens' Corner and then watched the runners disappear in groups as they wended their way towards South Framingham.

Sox Drop Morning Game

Carrigan Fails in Pinch

By HERMAN NICKERSON

Fenway Park, April 19.—The Senators won the morning game from the Red Sox by a score of 3 to 2, chiefly because the Champions could not bunch their hits off Boehling.

The Carrigan crew made a game stand in the eighth inning, when they pushed one over on two hits, but with a man on second a safety did not count.

Again in the ninth there was a chance for at least a tie score, when Barry cracked one into deep centre, getting three bases when Moeller and Milan came together.

Agnew was first out on an infield rap, Barry sticking on third and Carrigan made his first appearance, batting for Foster.

Bill took one strike and then attempted a squeeze play, being outguessed by the opposing battery, Boehling pitched high to Henry and Bill missed the ball by a mile and Barry was out at the plate. The game closed when Carrigan was tossed out at first.

THE GAME.

FIRST INNING.

Senators—Moeller flied to Shorten. E. Foster doubled to left and scored when Cady made a bad throw to first on Milan's swing bunt. Milan took second on the error. Judge lined to Scott, who doubled Milan at second to Barry. ONE RUN.

Red Sox—Hooper out, Morgan to Judge. Scott retired, Judge to Boehling, who covered first. Janvrin drew a pass and stole second. He scored when Lewis singled to right. Duffy stole second, but was left when Shorten flied to Milan. ONE RUN.

SECOND INNING.

Senators—Rondeau was thrown out by Gardner on a nice play. Morgan retired, Scott to Janvrin. Williams struck out. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Gardner gave Boehling a hard one to handle and beat it to first for a hit. Barry hit into a double play, E. Foster to Morgan to Judge. McBride threw out Cady. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

Senators—McBride singled to centre. Boehling was out, Foster to Janvrin. McBride caught off second, Cady to Scott. Moeller hit to Foster, who ran over making the put out. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Foster struck out. Williams dropped the ball but threw to first for the out. Hooper retired, McBride to Judge. Scott was thrown out by Morgan. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

Senators—E. Foster thrown out by G. Foster. Milan fouled to Cady. Gardner ran over to the visitors' dugout for Judge's foul fly. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Janvrin walked for the second time. Lewis doubled to left, Janvrin stopping at third. With the infield playing in, Shorten was out, McBride to Judge. Janvrin was out at the plate, Boehling to Williams, on Gardner's rap, Lewis taking third. Gardner stole second. Barry struck out. NO RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Senators—Rondeau singled to right. Morgan singled to centre, putting Rondeau on third. Williams doubled to left, scoring Rondeau and putting Morgan on third. McBride lifted to Scott, who ran into left field for the put out. Boehling hit a hot one to Foster on which Morgan scored and Williams took third. Moeller closed the inning with a fly to Hooper. TWO RUNS.

Red Sox—Cady drew a base on balls. McNally ran for Cady. Foster flied to Moeller. Hooper singled to centre, advancing McNally to third. Scott forced Hooper at second, McBride making the put out. Janvrin forced Scott at second, McBride to Morgan. NO RUNS.

SIXTH INNING.

Senators—Agnew went in to catch for Boston. E. Foster out, Scott to Janvrin. Milan singled to right. Judge struck out. Foster picked Milan off first after many attempts. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Lewis grounded out to Judge. Shorten fouled to Williams. Gardner flied to Milan. NO RUNS.

SEVENTH INNING.

Senators—Rondeau fouled to Janvrin. Morgan walked. Williams flied to Lewis. Morgan out stealing, Agnew to Barry. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Barry was thrown out by McBride. Agnew out, Foster to Judge. Foster struck out. NO RUNS.

EIGHTH INNING.

Senators—Foster passed McBride. Boehling tried to bunt, but popped to Foster. McBride advanced to second on Moeller's out, Barry to Janvrin. E. Foster was safe on Scott's high throw to first, McBride reaching third. Milan closed the inning on a fly to Hooper. NO RUNS.

Red Sox—Moeller made a splendid attempt to get Hooper's long drive, but Hooper got two bases. Hooper advanced to third on Scott's out, Morgan to Judge. Henry replaced Williams behind the bat for Washington, the shift being made on account of Williams being hurt. Lewis walked. [illegible] batted for Shorten. Haley fanned. Gardner forced Lewis, Morgan to McBride. ONE RUN.

NINTH INNING.

Senators—Hendriksen now playing left field for Boston. Judge flied out to Hooper. Rondeau flied to Hendriksen. Morgan out, Gardner to Janvrin.

Red Sox—Barry led off with a triple, the ball being lost in a collision between Rondeau and Milan. Agnew out, Foster to Judge. Carrigan made his first appearance of the season, batting in place of G. Foster. He attempted a squeeze play, Henry getting Barry at the plate. The game was over when Boehling tossed out Carrigan on a slow roller. NO RUNS.

R. MOORE WINS PAUL REVERE RACE

The annual Paul Revere three-mile run, held by the Lexington Athletic Association today, was won by Raymond J. Moore, covering the course in 15 minutes and [illegible] seconds. Moore led the field by a quarter of a mile when he breasted the tape.

The runners finished in the following order: Raymond Moore first, John Corbin second, Lowell Bartlett third, Fred Stevens fourth, Ernest Wellington fifth, Collin McGillavary sixth, John Dailey seventh and John Record eighth.

ACCIDENT TO SAILOR DELAYS SHIP SAILING

The British steamer Anglian, scheduled to sail from Hoosac Tunnel docks early today, was held up for several hours because of an accident to a member of the crew. Hakon Gunnisken, a sailor, in casting off one of the lines, lost his balance and leaped to the pier, breaking both bones in his lower right leg. He was taken to the Relief Hospital and the bones set, after which he was transferred to the ship, which sailed for England.

ASKS BOSTON TO JOIN CITIZEN ARMY PLAN

"A citizen's army in Boston is necessary. See what we are doing in Philadelphia. We expect to get 48,000 men in such an army in a short time," declared David H. Provan of the executive committee of Philadelphia Preparedness Campaign at the Copley-Plaza today.

Mr. Provan expects to interest Governor McCall, Mayor Curley and Colonel Cody of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in a mass meeting in Philadelphia May 1 when the details of the citizen's army plan will be outlined with the expectation that Boston will follow.

"The wealthy men of our city have talked about this for some time. They are willing to put their money into it. They believe that the wealth of this country has a special duty to perform in the work of preparedness," said Mr. Provan.

"Our plan does not conflict with the Plattsburg plan. It is to cooperate with it. When Boston gets 48,000 young men in its citizens' army we will then appeal to other cities to follow our example."

ANOTHER COUPLE FROM BOSTON AT GRETNA GREEN

"Did you say Bellows Falls? Some place, you bet it is. Not the Falls, but the old Town Hall and, by the way, we got so interested in the Town Hall that we clear forgot the Falls," so read the note that Mrs. Edbert Patterson Hankins, formerly Miss Lucy M. Furbish of No. 5 Lorenza street, in the Neponset section of Dorchester, left for a representative of the Boston AMERICAN, yesterday afternoon, prior to departing with her husband for New York. The couple were married on Monday, in Bellows Falls, which is now known as the Gretna Green of New England.

It was an elopement pure and simple. The cause of it was the five-day law in this State. Mr. and Mrs. Hankins intended being married about Easter time, but Mr. Hankins, a well-known hotel steward, who had just came back from Palm Beach, received a flattering contract to go to Saratoga Springs. In reading the AMERICAN they found that Bellows Falls, away up in Vermont, was the place where the people don't believe in five-day laws.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Furbish, parents of Mrs. Hankins, forgave the young couple for their hasty action when all was explained, and wished them God speed as they departed for New York. Mrs. Hankins was formerly a West Quincy girl and graduated from the grammar and high schools of Quincy, where she has a host of friends. She was recently employed in a Boston department store. It was while on a vacation four years ago that she met her husband.

GLIB BANDIT ROBS DRUG STORE OF $60

A glib holdup artist resembling in every way except the speech impediment the stuttering bandit of Hanbury, held up Moses Berlang in his drug store at No. [illegible] Blue Hill avenue and escaped with $60.

He asked Berlang for some information about drugs and then entered into a conversation regarding business conditions. Suddenly he decided that he wanted something that he saw in the store and asked Berlang to get it for him. As Berlang did so the bandit took advantage of a moment when the pharmacist turned his back to draw a gun; then he cleaned out the till.

CONFESSES TO KILLING A MAN 10 YEARS AGO

Pawtucket, R. I., April 19.—As a result of a confession made by Michael C. Donnelly while intoxicated, he was today turned over to the New York police for a murder committed in 1907.

Donnelly, who was serving a sentence in the county jail for drunkenness, confessed to killing his brother-in-law, William Ross, on April 7, 1907.

On April 11 last the man walked into the local police station and informed Sergeant William H. Dow that he had killed a man in New York about ten years ago. He was locked up and later committed to the county jail, although the New York police were notified and Detective Sergeant Cornelius W. Willemse arrived here for the prisoner today.

Donnelly said that he interfered when Ross was beating his wife, Donnelly's sister. Ross then beat Donnelly and the latter went out and bought a gun, with which he shot the man at the corner of Seventy-sixth street and Third avenue.

SPEAKER TO HAVE A DAY

Boston Baseball Fans to Honor Former Sox Star When the Indians Arrive.

When Cleveland comes here on May 9, the date will be known as Speaker Day. Many of his friends in town are active in preparation of arrangements and a fine program is assured. Among the features will be the singing of the Meistersingers, all of whom are fellow-members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine.

Potentate Walter Morrison, Aleppo Temple, A. A. M. S., and J. C. Morse are busy getting things in shape for a Shriners' Day, which will come on August 29. About 3,000 Shriners, with their ladies, will attend, the ladies occupying the boxes on the right-hand section of the stand. The Shriners attend at the invitation of President J. J. Lannin.

EAGAN AND O'DOWD TOP CARD AT ARENA

Joe Eagan, the rising South Boston welterweight, who held Mike Glover, the New England champion, to a dead heat in his last start, meets Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul in the feature event at the Arena next Tuesday night. "Chick" West of Holyoke and Dave Powers of Malden come together in the semi-final number, while the two six-rounders will be rendered by Johnny Donovan of South Boston and Johnny Marks of Montreal and Young Cosmos of New Bedford and Barney Snyder of Roxbury.

A Daylight Scenic Trip to California

When you go to California you pass all the interesting points if you go via the BURLINGTON. A good-natured, well-informed guide is in charge of these "PERSONALLY CONDUCTED" PARTIES. He tells you all about the interesting things that you come across on this daylight route. He not only acts as guide, but he looks after all your personal comforts, and anticipates your wants. Altogether, he acts as host for the C. B. & Q. Railroad. He makes you feel at home—the way a real host should.

You understand, of course, that there's no extra charge for all this; as a matter of fact, this trip is a bargain that you cannot afford to miss.

If you will send me your address on a postal, I'll send you some mighty interesting reading matter and maps and a bunch of pictures on the parts of the West that you care most about. Or it would be better still if you could drop in at the office and get them, and then we could talk over your trip. If you'll do that, I'll give you my whole attention.

SPORT FOOD

BY GEO. E. PHAIR

I'LL LEAVE IT TO YOU.

If your little home where you had become accustomed to perpetrate your daily work had been turned into a house of madness by an army corps of painters, paperhangers and other necessary evils, what would you do?

Naturally you would say: "You have a desk and a typewriter in the office. Why don't you work there?"

But if you loped into the office, intent on writing airy persiflage to lighten the burden of your fellowmen, and you found a stepladder where your desk used to be and your desk was floating somewhere on an unexplored portion of the River of Doubt, and you had to listen to the rhythmic rattle of the carpenter's hammer and the soothing sound of his scratchful saw and the soulful squeak of a desk being dragged over a cement floor, what would you do?

Naturally you would say: "Hard by your office is a haven of rest where carpenters and housecleaners enter not, and naught is heard but the melodious tinkling of ice in the glass and still more melodious sound of "Whadleyahave?" Why don't you stroll across the street?"

But if you strolled across the street, intent on pouring a quiet and undisturbed libation to Bacchus and you were introduced to a distinguished looking stranger who was a colonel, or a major, or a general, or something like that, by title, and a Southerner by progession, and who told you that he belonged to one of the first families of Virginia, suh! and that his father lost 300 slaves and the old homestead and the family fortune in the Civil War, and that, even though he was now selling bar polish for a livelihood, he still could hold up his head and shove his right mitt between the first and second buttons of his coat and say that he belonged to one of the first families of Virginia, suh! What would you do?

And yet our municipalities pay regular money to investigate the causes of crime.

Although Jess Willard has signed with a circus, a study of the gate receipts reveals the fact that he is not a white elephant.

We fear that Frank X. Bushman is about to be eclipsed as a movie favorite. Kid Broad has become a photoplay actor.

Considering the propensities of Villa and Carranza, the national emblem of Mexico must be the jumping bean.

Fred Fulton is a plasterer by trade, but up to date he hasn't plastered anybody worth while.

BRAINS AND BASEBALL.

"Brains," said one fan to another as they sat in the stand, "brains are essential to success in baseball. Ability to hit long drives does not necessarily win pennants. I would willingly swap a team of sluggers who cannot think for a team of light hitters who can. Give me the men who have intelligence, men who can make the proper play at the proper time. A well-placed bunt at the right moment is often of more value to a team than a home run."

Just then Bill Hoosit came to bat with the score tied, nobody out and a man on first and tried to lay down a bunt.

The fan turned purple, arose from his seat, clenched his fists and hollered: "Hit it out, ya big stiff! Hit it out!"

COMISKEY DECLARES GAMES ARE LAGGING

Chicago, April 19.—Complaint that American League games are being played too slowly was made by C. A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, to President Johnson today.

A number of the games have lasted well over two hours, and in Chicago particularly they have been slow, due, however, mainly to the number of passes issued by the pitchers.

That's Shutout No. 6 for Grover Over the Braves

GROVER ALEXANDER registered his seventh triumph over the Braves since June 26, 1911, the first time he applied the kalsomine, in Philadelphia yesterday. Strangely, it was the fifth time in succession—once in 1913, once in 1914 and twice in 1915—that Rudolph was blanked in his clash with the Phillies' noted right-hander.

The figures on Alexander's Boston whitewashing follow:

June 26, 1911, 5 to 0; opposing pitchers, Ferguson and Brown.

September 7, 1911, 1 to 0; opposing pitcher, Young.

September 5, 1913, 0 to 0 (ten innings); opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

July 4, 1914, 5 to 0; opposing picher, Rudolph.

April 14, 1915, 3 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

September 29, 1915, 5 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

April 18, 1916, 1 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

Phillies' Star Moundsman Topples Braves from Lofty Berth, Scoring 4-0 Shutout.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—Hon. Pat Moran's Phillies stopped the speeding Braves, 4-0, and also hopped into first place. It was the first time since opening day that Pat's 1915 pennant kings have been at the head of the procession.

Grover Alexander was sent against Dick Rudolph and the king not only had the satisfaction of giving Stallings' team its first defeat, likewise shutout, of the season, but also let the Braves down with five hits.

Alexander and Rudolph were compelled to hurl from a wind-swept tee and the outfielders had a lot of trouble gauging the course of the ball. Several flies hit into the outfield were driven back to the outer edge of the infield.

Rudolph did not go the full distance. After the Phils had a 3-0 lead at the end of the sixth session, Boss Stallings used two pinch hitters in the seventh and Barnes, a recruit, finished the game for Boston. Tragressor also relieved Gowdy. In his six-inning term Rudolph was banged safely six times. Barnes permitted but two hits in two rounds, but they produced a run.

It was Alex's good day. He even looked better than in his opening start against the Giants. "Pete" Compton was the only Brave able to get more than one hit. Of the five hits made off the noted right-hander, four were clean and the other one very tainted. The scratch bingle went to Wilhoit. He beat out a high, bounding tap over Alexander's head on his first trip to the plate.

Alex's greatest bit of pitching was in the second. This is how good he really was. Konetchy led off with a double to left and "Red" Smith worked Alex for a pass. It looked bad for Moran's fighters, but Compton lifted a foul to Stock and Gowdy sent up a fly to Luderus. Alex fanned Rudolph and the near rally was over.

Smith walked and Compton singled, with two down in the fourth, but Gowdy fouled out again. In the fifth Maranville was safe on Alexander's error of his grounder. After Evers lined to Cravath, the Rabbit stole second and went to third on Burns' wild throw. Wilhoit could not come through in the pinch, elevating to Paskert.

The Phils jabbed Rudolph for a run in the second. Cravath singled to centre. Luderus walked and Whitted laid down a fancy sacrifice bunt. On Niehoff's long fly to Compton, Cravath ambled home. Luderus tried to go to third, but was out, Maranville to Smith.

HEALTH HINTS
Rheumatism.

For those who have tried to be rid of rheumatism and have failed, we urge the use of Minard's liniment, that has stood the test of years and brought such satisfactory relief in thousands of cases right here in Boston, because it is always dependable, is absolutely pure and quickly drives out all rheumatic pains. It is safe and very effective. Does not stain or blister. Is clean, pleasant to use and very economical.—Advertisement.

BOXING BRIEFS AND GOSSIP

THE Armory A. A. officials are running into bad luck with bad matches, which is only according to old Pop Dope.

TRUTH it is that the matchmaking has been uniformly poor, way below the old high standard, practically week in and week out of late months. The talent knew that the Wells-Murphy booking was a bad one. Result: Only a sparse house turned out.

MURPHY was a very so-so light-weight. Murphy can also hold his own with the Class C-Q welters. But Mohr, Mack and those boys are his speed, not an established star like Matt Wells.

LATE windups at the Armory A. A. wouldn't be half bad if put on as the semi-finals. But the bulk of the ambitious youths the club has been showing in the windup events of late weeks are way out of their sphere when used in the big numbers.

THEY don't deliver and they don't do the club's treasury any good.

The Wells-Murphy house was equal-ly as big a flivver as the bout itself.

JOE CONNOLLY of Charlestown, making his second appearance as a pro. in last night's semifinal with Tommy McFarland of the North End, showed his many admirers he's got a chance to come through when working with an opponent who will make it a stand-up affair.

THE three minor events saved last night's show. Each one was jammed full of action, with the semifinal quite a riot.

CONNOLLY made the most pace. He likewise delivered the stoutest licks. For all that, McFarland did a heap of clever countering, as well as had a shade in the inner whaling. Joe was a wee bit in front at the end of the seventh, added a trifle to his advantage in the eighth, though Tommy did some good work in spots himself, and was entitled to the verdict that Maffitt Flaherty slipped him.

FLAHERTY made a hit by splitting a close pair and he landed on the right boy. Calling draws has been Maffitt's failing all Winter. He runs a bout well, always sees that the youths work as fast as possible and stops uneven set-tos at the right time. But as a picker, he's been making a lot of bum guesses. Furthermore, he's rendered way too many draws, especially in the big numbers.

"BATTLING AL" NELSON of Char-ley Beshler's stable, and "Patsy" De Lucca go it at Berlin, N. H., April 28.

PHIL POWERS, who has been re-appointed chief referee of the Armory A. A., was the recipient of the noisiest ovation of the evening when he climbed through the ropes to handle the Wells-Murphy thingumajig. Now that he's back on the job, he should be kept on it and likewise backed by the club.

YOUNG BRITT has been matched to meet Willie Jackson of New York at Litchfield May 8. Boston's new club, which plans operating at Hibernian Hall, Roxbury, the home of the late lamented Business Men's A. A., may ring up the curtain April 28. If it does Young Britt is almost bound to go on in the windup number.

DAVE POWERS has signed to bat-tle Young Lajoie at North Abington April 27.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The solici-tor for the Irish Patriotic Association has notified Tom Jones that unless Champion Jess Willard went through with his agreement to box an exhibition at Tom Ryan's Toronto Club, which Manager Jones agreed to, action will be taken which will prohibit the Champion from appearing in Canada until he fulfils his contract.

RYAN made Jones an offer of $1,000 for a boxing exhibition, which was accepted. Three days later the Canadian promoter was notified Willard could not keep the engagement on account of sickness.

THE much-talked Frankie Brown-Young Marino affair will be staged at the Fairmont A. C., April 29.

JOHNNY HARVEY, the rugged lightweight, has signed to meet Phil Brock in a ten-round contest at Cleveland, May 3.

THE return bout between Benny Leonard and Phil Bloom will be staged at the Stadium A. C. tomorrow night. Ever since the Boston affair, which Leonard won in eight rounds, Bloom has been hankering for another crack at "Billy" Gibson's star.

THE Tom Gibbons-"Billy" Papke ten-round session, carded to take place at St. Paul early next month, is off for good. The younger member of the Gibbons family demanded a big guarantee, which the promoters refused to give him. Leo Houck of Lancaster has been substituted to face Tom.

THE Mike Gibbons-Jack Dillon con-test, scheduled to take place at St. Paul, Decoration Day, is also off. Mike wanted "Indianapolis Jack" to make 158 pounds ringside, but Dillon held out for 165 pounds or nothing.

McFARLAND BALKS AT $15,000 OFFER

Chicago, April 19.—A battle between Packey McFarland, and the winner of the Ted Lewis-Jack Britton go at New Orleans, Monday night, was in the making here today.

The Crescent City promoters have offered the stockyards battler $12,500, according to reports, but he demanded $15,000. The battle, if Packey agrees, will be pulled in New Orleans about July 4.

O'DONNELL BACK IN CITY.

Coach Cleo O'Donnell of Everett High has returned from Lafayette, Ind., where he put the Purdue University football warriors through their Spring practice. He will handle Everett's baseball squad and then retire permanently and devote his entire time to Purdue's football chair.

SOCCER SHOTS

IT is probable that the replay Bethle-hem-Pullman semi-final game will be staged at Newark, N. J., and the final between the Rovers and winner of replay at Pawtucket.

* * *

BOSTON is being talked of for the big game. There are many doubting Thomases, however, who cannot see profit in the venture, but fans hereabouts can reckon on more than 2,000 spectators at the big show.

* * *

THIS being the first time that a Massachusetts club has ever worked up to the finals, it is considered that the biggest boost for the game would be to play at Boston. Rhode Islanders would find the trip enjoyable, and fans all over the State, New Hampshire and Maine would also be attracted.

* * *

ST. George, by defeating Charles-town, looms up as a contender for the championship in the local series. It also looks easy to the players to corral the Williamson cup.

BOB GRIEER, the reliable of the New Bedford F. C., is still on the sick list, his place on the team is a hard one to fill, and it looks now as though their chances for the State cup is much lessened.

* * *

THE Williamson cup competition gets under way on Saturday, St. Georges playing Charlestown the semi-final to start on account of there being only five teams entered.

* * *

THINGS are now looking rosy for the Fall River Rovers from a financial standpoint. Up to Saturday they were some dollars in the hole, but last Saturday's attendance placed them on the profit side of the ledger and the end not in sight.

FLIVVER WON BY WELLS

Eddie Murphy Proves No Match for British Boxer—Arena Show Saved by Minor Events.

MATT WELLS, the noted English lightweight, and Eddie Murphy of South Boston, who aims to shine in the welterweight division, put up a very doleful, likewise dismal, twelve-round scrap at the Arena last night.

Murphy might have landed on Wells twice. But that was about all. It was Wells' bout from the time the articles of agreement were signed; each round was a repetition of its predecessor, old Matt ever in front, and Phil Powers, back in the role of referee, merely performed a perfunctory part of his duties when he pointed to the Britisher's corner, in token of victory, at the end of the sad number.

The show was saved by the minor events. The semi-final, rendered by Joe Connolly of Charlestown and Tommy McFarland of the North End, was a whale of a battle. So were the two preliminaries. As for the windup number, it was an awful "fliv." It didn't dope to amount to much, nor did the dope go wrong.

WELLS ALL THE WAY.

The crowd at the Arena, which hitherto has always been jammed on the night of the big fistic entertainments, was about on a par with the turnouts attracted by the Canadian professional hockeyists when they attempted to play a series here. Two shows were enough for them and the management, too.

Murphy survived the twelve rounds with Wells for the most excellent reason that old Matt has never toted a kayo wallop around with him. He hit Eddie early and often; shot home his stiffest blows to every inch of Eddie's anatomy, as well as every section of the South Boston boy's face. But none of them had much "stuff" behind them. Hence, Murphy was up erect when the final bell clanged.

Wells opened by playing for Murphy's wind and Eddie winced ere the opening canto was over. Evidently Matt feared there was a chance Eddie would go down if he kept up his stomach attack and claim a foul and that Mr. Powers might allow said claim. Foolish Matt! He was never in the ring with a more efficient or honorable referee, and, be it known, he has pranced on the canvas a good many years and regularly, too.

REILLY A GAME LAD.

Commencing with the second round Wells raised his attack. And so it was from that spasm on to the windup—Matt leading for the ribs, chest or head and landing practically at will; Murphy doing but little else than tumbling into a clinch. The fans in the gallery whistling the "Merry Widow" waltz, while the ringside patrons beat it early.

Joe Connolly beat Tommy McFarland by the narrowest of margins in the semi-final. The bout went the limit and was a corker, class of the rival glovemen considered. Joe doped to work better against a rough warrior like Tommy, than he did when on with the pecking, crafty Al Ready, the night the Charlestown boy made his bow as a pro.

That night Joe was cut to pieces but last night McFarland made it a toe-and-toe affair with Connolly and their bout pleased. Joe landed the greater number of still punches though Tommy probably tied him on the actual count. Connolly was a wee bit in front at the windup and Maffitt Flaherty rendered a most popular decision and a fairly fair one, when he decided in Joe's favor.

Tommy Fox of Charlestown and Barney Reilly of South Boston had it out in hammer and tongs style for six rounds. It was a hurrah battle in the extreme. Reilly kept in the hunt for four rounds by landing an occasional "haymaker," but the classier work was pulled by Fox and he well earned the decision he received.

For all that, Reilly is some plucky youth and the owner of a big league wallop, if not much science.

FAMOUS TRIO IN CLASH

Leon Didier, Clarence Carman and George Wiley, Hook Up in 25-Mile Event at Revere.

HOLIDAY BIKE CARD.

25-Mile International Motor-paced Race—George Wiley, Syracuse, N. Y., vs. Clarence Carman, Jamaica, L. I., vs. Leon Didier, Paris, France.

Amateur and professional events.

PROMPTLY at 2:30 this afternoon the 1916 bike racing season will be inaugurated at the Revere Cycle Track, with one of the best opening day programs ever arranged.

The principal event will be the 25-mile international motor-paced race, and will have as competitors, George Wiley of Syracuse, N. Y.; Clarance Carman of Jamaica, L. I., and Leon Didier, the marvelous French rider. No better field could scarcely be selected for a short distance pace, for these three men are acknowledged supreme at this mileage.

Particular interest is centred in the re-appearance of Leon Didier, who has just returned from the war ravaged fields of France. Didier left this country last August in the midst of a sensational string of victories in order that he might be able to defend the colors of his country.

After being injured in battle he was shipped back from the front to Paris and finally rewarded with a leave of absence in acknowledgement for his bravery.

Didier will have his hands full in today's race and he knows this only too well, for Wiley and Carman are without doubt the best that America possesses over the middle distance route.

The feature race will be supported by a well balanced card of amateur and professional events, in which many will make their first appearance. If the weather is threatening the motor-paced race will be run off first, so it is important that everybody be seated at 2:30.

SNAPPY SPRINTS FOR PENN CREWS

Philadelphia, April 19.—Coach Ward changed the distance for Pennsylvania crews from the Henley distance of a mile and five-sixteenths to a mile and a half, preparatory to their race with Yale next Saturday.

The three first crews were out for a spin early in the morning and Coach Ward put them through a snappy two-minute sprint. In the sprints the varsity showed its superiority over the other two crews. About a length was gained on the junior crews in the two minutes, while a short marking was opened up each time on the starts.

The Yale oarsmen arrived here last night and were taken to the Fraternity houses at the university. Their boats arrived in the afternoon.

PROTEST FILED BY NEW YORK ELEVEN

New York, April 19.—The Continentals of New York, which lost to the Fall River Rovers by a score of 1-0 last Saturday in the semifinal national soccer championship cup tie, has filed notice of protest with Secretary Cahill. The protest is based on the claim that Swords of Fall River was under suspension and, therefore, ineligible to play.

SPEAKER TO HAVE A DAY

Boston Baseball Fans to Honor Former Sox Star When the Indians Arrive.

When Cleveland comes here on May 8 the date will be known as Speaker Day. Many of his friends in town are active in preparation of arrangements and a fine program is assured. Among the features will be the singing of the Meistersingers, all of whom are fellow-members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine.

Potentate Walter Morrison, Aleppo Temple, A. A. M. S., and J. C. Morse are busy getting things in shape for a Shriners' Day, which will come on August 29. About 3,000 Shriners, with their ladies, will attend, the ladies occupying the boxes on the right-hand section of the stand. The Shriners attend at the invitation of President J. J. Lannin.

EAGAN AND O'DOWD TOP CARD AT ARENA

Joe Eagan, the rising South Boston welterweight, who held Mike Glover, the New England champion, to a dead heat in his last start, meets Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul in the feature event at the Arena next Tuesday night. "Chick" West of Holyoke and Dave Powers of Malden come together in the semi-final number, while the two six-rounders will be rendered by Johnny Donovan of South Boston and Johnny Marks of Montreal and Young Gomes of New Bedford and Barney Snyder of Roxbury.

E. H. S. TENNIS SCHEDULE.

TUFTS PLAYS CADETS.

West Point, N. Y., April 19.—Winning five straight games on their Southern trip, the Tufts College nine winds up the trip with this afternoon's contest with the Cadets. Whittaker is slated to pitch for the visitors.

A Daylight Scenic Trip to California

When you go to California you pass all the interesting points if you go via the BURLINGTON. A goodnatured, well-informed guide is in charge of these "PERSONALLY CONDUCTED" PARTIES. He tells you all about the interesting things that you come across on this daylight route. He not only acts as guide, but he looks after all your personal comforts, and anticipates your wants. Altogether, he acts as host for the C. B. & Q. Railroad. He makes you feel at home—the way a real host would.

You understand, of course, that there's no extra charge for all this; as a matter of fact, this trip is a bargain that you cannot afford to miss.

If you will send me your address on a postal, I'll send you some mighty interesting reading matter and maps and a bunch of pictures on the parts of the West that you care most about. Or it would be better still if you could drop in at the office and get them, and then we could talk over your trip. If you'll do that, I'll give you my whole attention.

ALEX STOCKS, New Eng. Pass. Agt., C. B. & Q. R. R., 284 Washington, Boston.—Advertisement.

I'LL LEAVE IT TO YOU.

If your little home where you had become accustomed to perpetrate your daily work had been turned into a house of madness by an army corps of painters, paperhangers and other necessary evils, what would you do?

Naturally you would say: "You have a desk and a typewriter in the office. Why don't you work there?"

But if you loped into the office, intent on writing airy persiflage to lighten the burden of your fellowmen, and you found a stepladder where your desk used to be and your desk was floating somewhere on an unexplored portion of the River of Doubt, and you had to listen to the rhythmic rattle of the carpenter's hammer and the soothing sound of his scratchful saw and the soulful squeak of a desk being dragged over a cement floor, what would you do?

Naturally you would say: "Hard by your office is a haven of rest where carpenters and housecleaners enter not, and naught is heard but the melodious tinkling of ice in the glass and still more melodious sound of: 'Whaddleyahave?' Why don't you stroll across the street?"

But if you strolled across the street, intent on pouring a quiet and undisturbed libation to Bacchus and you were introduced to a distinguished looking stranger who was a colonel, or a major, or a general, or something like that, by title, and a southerner by progession, and who told you that he belonged to one of the first families of Virginia, suh! and that his father lost 300 slaves and the old homestead and the family fortune in the Civil War, and that, even though he was now selling bar polish for a livelihood, he still could hold up his head and shove his right mitt between the first and second buttons of his coat and say that he belonged to one of the first families of Virginia, suh! What would you do?

And yet our municipalities pay regular money to investigate the causes of crime.

Although Jess Willard has signed with a circus, a study of the gate receipts reveals the fact that he is not a white elephant.

We fear that Frank X. Bushman is about to be eclipsed as a movie favorite. Kid Broad has become a photoplay actor.

Considering the propensities of Villa and Carranza, the national emblem of Mexico must be the jumping bean.

Fred Fulton is a plasterer by trade, but up to date he hasn't plastered anybody worth while.

BRAINS AND BASEBALL.

"Brains," said one fan to another as they sat in the stand, "brains are essential to success in baseball. Ability to hit long drives does not necessarily win pennants. I would willingly swap a team of sluggers who cannot think for a team of light hitters who can. Give me the men who have intelligence, men who can make the proper play at the proper time. A well-placed bunt at the right moment is often of more value to a team than a home run."

Just then Bill Hoosit came to bat with the score tied, nobody out and a man on first and tried to lay down a bunt.

The fan turned purple, arose from his seat, clenched his fists and hollered: 'Hit it out, ya big stiff! Hit it out!"

COMISKEY DECLARES GAMES ARE LAGGING

Chicago, April 19.—Complaint that American League games are being played too slowly was made by C. A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, to President Johnson today.

A number of the games have lasted well over two hours, and in Chicago particularly they have been slow, due, however, mainly to the number of passes issued by the pitchers.

That's Shutout No. 6 for Grover Over the Braves

GROVER ALEXANDER registered his seventh triumph over the Braves since June 26, 1911, the first time he applied the kalsomine, in Philadelphia yesterday. Strangely, it was the fifth time in succession—once in 1912, once in 1914 and twice in 1915—that Rudolph was blanked in his clash with the Phillies' noted right-hander.

The figures on Alexander's Boston whitewashes follow:

June 26, 1911, 5 to 0; opposing pitchers, Ferguson and Brown.

September 7, 1911, 1 to 0; opposing pitcher, Young.

September 5, 1913, 0 to 0 (ten innings); opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

July 1, 1914, 5 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

April 14, 1915, 3 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

September 29, 1915, 5 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

April 18, 1916, 1 to 0; opposing pitcher, Rudolph.

Washington, April 19.—Pitcher Kendrick of Catholic University held the Boston College artillery to three hits and the home team made connections 4-0, in a spiritedly contested game. The Best Baby" Contest Editor has learned a secret which may throw light on the fact that some localities about Greater Boston are not sending in their full share of babies to be registered in the contest.

One mother who had walked into the editor's office, thinking she might have her baby weighed and measured, carried an unusually fat infant, which was so heavy that the little mother was completely fatigued.

"I could find no one to weigh and measure my baby," she confessed, "and I thought it could be done at the office of the AMERICAN."

Other mothers have come in with the same idea, only to be sent to some milk station, where may be found complete equipment for testing the baby.

There are milk and baby hygiene stations in all sections of Boston, where the nurses in charge would surely help any mother to fill out a measurement card.

MOTHERS CAN MEASURE BABIES.

The blank has been made as simple as possible so that mothers who possess a tape measure and scales could do the measuring and weighing themselves. The editor receives blanks, however, which show that the meaning of "circumference" is not thoroughly understood.

Take the tape, which should be marked off in inches, and place it entirely about the largest part of the head; note the distance and set the result down on paper.

Then do the same for the breast. Make the tape go clear around the body under the arms.

The abdomen is measured in the same way.

If there are no scales in the house, the grocer should be willing to lend his weighing machine.

The measuring for height is perhaps the most difficult. Many babies in the contest do not walk, and therefore to find the baby's height it must be laid on a table where it can be stretched out full length.

A pencil mark should be placed at the top of the head and at the feet. After the marks are carefully made remove the baby and with the same tape measure find out the exact distance between the two marks.

ENTER BABIES TODAY.

The baby should be weighed without any clothes on him, and if a blanket is used for him to sit on this should be weighed to find out how many ounces to take off from baby's own weight.

Another difficulty has also been discovered. A mother who came in with her fat baby, when asked why more babies did not come to register and enter the competition, said it was because many babies in her section of the city were too small.

That idea is all wrong. Now is the time to take heart, because we have learned that babies as well as animals are greatly injured by too much fat.

No, good friends, the fat babies will not necessarily get prizes—and, in fact, their chances are little better than lean, light babies. Therefore, come in with registry blanks. Wait no longer. File up the entries. BUT ENTER YOUR BABIES AT ONCE.

Motor Notes.

BY J. C. KERRISON.

Thousands of motor cars are today following the competitors in the B. A. A. marathon. This event annually brings forth a dress parade of motor cars, wherein are seen models from the early days of the industry to the very latest thing in motor construction, and today is no exception of the rule.

Some people think there is real pleasure in following this contest in a motor car, and are content to spend the morning and early afternoon in that manner. Others there are who prefer greater comfort in driving than can be secured by piloting a car over congested roads such as those which comprise the route of a marathon on each April 19.

Others there are who freely forego the pleasure of following the marathon for a trip to Lexington and Concord, there to enjoy the events provided for the local celebration. Still another class is that which longs for an opportunity to drive over the country roads far away from the madening crowds, and to enjoy motoring at its best in a trip through the picturesque territory overflowing with signs of Spring. All classes were alive to the individual opportunities and were abroad today.

While those who buy and ride in motor cars are enjoying the pleasures of the same, the great majority of the men who sell motor cars will be found on the various golf courses of this section, engaging in what is to them their pleasure and pastime. Many impromptu matches are being played, and wondrous stories of famous strokes will be recited over the luncheon tables at the B. A. A. and the B. S. A. A. tomorrow.

TRUTH, JUSTICE BOSTON AMERICAN EDITORIAL PAGE PUBLIC SERVICE

Wednesday, April 19, 1916

Senators and Representatives, the Undoubted Will of the American People Is That You Maintain Peace

Senators and Representatives, it has fallen to your lot to decide whether your country shall feed its wealth, its prosperity and the bodies of its strong men into the destroying fire of this European war, or whether your country shall continue to be peaceful, prosperous and happy.

An immense responsibility rests upon each one of you this day.

It is not to be denied that a strong body of our countrymen are almost frantically anxious to have you plunge the nation into this dreadful war.

Numerically, these extremists are a very small minority of the whole people. But they are very rich and they are socially and politically very influential.

They control a number of newspapers, and have at their service able and astute writers and speakers.

The propaganda which they have carried on with the avowed purpose of inflaming the American people with a desire to enter this European war has never been equalled by any other propaganda carried on in any other country in the world.

This propaganda has employed every conceivable agency to excite public passion. It has cost millions, and has never failed to find the financial sources to supply the millions.

This propaganda has had its effect even upon our Government, as none know better than do you, yourselves, who are in intimate daily touch with the affairs of Government and see all about you daily the evidences of the changes which this subtle and persistent persuasion and intimidation have made upon the neutral mind with which the Administration first viewed this bloody struggle across the seas.

Speaking now for the millions of peace-loving and really neutral common people of our country, who have no journals at their beck or in their pay, who have no financial or social influence, but who are the very men and women who will have to bear on their shoulders the heavy burdens of agony and death, WHO MUST PAY WITH THEIR LIVES AND THEIR TEARS THE AWFUL COST of our entry into this distant and insane war—speaking for these voiceless countrymen and countrywomen of yours, Senators and Representatives, we beseech you to keep our country from participation in this crime against civilization and against our race.

Senators and Representatives, we greatly suspect that the very apparent haste in which you have been summoned to decide upon a question which might easily wait at least a few weeks, as it has waited for many months, is due to a desire in high places, and in interested financial quarters, to distract your attention from the really pressing situation in Mexico.

There both the nation's self-respect and the nation's interest demand that we restore peace and order by the use of whatever force is necessary.

There, in Mexico, our duty is plain and apparent—not our duty to make war upon another people, but our duty to police a neighboring country that is without government and law, and to give that distressed people both government and law, coupled with order and freedom.

Senators and Representatives, consider now what part we shall be forced to play if you thrust us into this European struggle.

There would be no service for our navy to perform, for the seas are clear of the German fleets.

There would be no service for our army to perform, because we have no army to spare.

The one inglorious service we could perform would be to pay the enormous bills which have bankrupted Allies as well as Teutons, and to send our young men by the hundreds of thousands to recruit the armies of Russia, England and France.

There is no glory, no profit for us. We could only furnish these bankrupts with billions of money and fill their trenches with our American dead.

Senators and Representatives, that is an awful price to pay for the poor privilege of making the sea safe for American citizens who insist upon voyaging upon belligerent ships in preference to voyaging on ships flying the American flag.

There are not five million—no, not one million—of your sober-minded, sensible countrymen who desire to see you throw the nation's lives and the nation's wealth into this accursed hell of war upon such an excuse.

The whole weight of your plain fellow-citizens' desire is to remain at peace with Europe, to continue to cultivate their farms, to run their mills, to follow their useful avocations, and to grow in prosperity and in riches, rather than to waste their all in a quarrel which can be honorably avoided.

Nor in weighing all the reasons for your final action, should you forget, Senators and Representatives, the danger that will arise in the Pacific if we throw all our strength and resources into this insane war across the Atlantic.

Nothing could possibly so delight the astute and crafty and unscrupulous statesmen who are watching eagerly your every move from their viewpoint in Tokio.

It is notorious that Japan irks under the alliance with England and is ready to strike hands with Germany if there is hope of gain for her in the new alliance.

If you should decide upon a course that inevitably means war with Germany, that moment Japan would prepare to strike her blow at us for the royal prize of China and the Philippines and India and the undisputed lordship of Asia.

And Japan would most certainly forsake the Allies and join the Teutonic Powers in order to be free to strike her blow at us.

Senators and Representatives, if the honor or the safety of the nation demanded war, then our voice would be as loud for war as any voice, and all your countrymen's voices would be for war, the cry for war would be universal, because all of us are more than willing to fight for the nation's honor and the nation's safety.

Senators and Representatives, there is no such universal cry, no such universal sentiment, and that you yourselves know.

And the one impressive proof that neither honor nor interest demands our entry into this European war, is just the very fact that not even a majority of your countrymen are in favor of entering into that war.

Certainly you must credit the majority of your countrymen with as much patriotism as the minority, with as keen a desire to protect the national rights and the national honor as the minority. And you should not forget that the majority of your fellow-citizens are plain people, and disinterested in the social and financial projects which so powerfully influence the minority.

Senators and Representatives, do not plunge your people into this cruel and wicked war!

Instead of adding to the agony and slaughter of Europe's unhappy peoples the agony and slaughter of our own people, find for us the right way to maintain peace ourselves and to hasten the coming of peace to the world.

If you throw our billions of money and millions of our lives into this war, Senators and Representatives, what else can result than a prolonged struggle to the death which will exhaust the vitality of the whole white race and leave our children's children hewers of wood and drawers of water and payers of tribute to the yellow men of Asia?

There is now a very apparent prospect of peace in Europe within this year. The significant signs of a rapidly growing yearning for peace in all the countries at war cannot have escaped your notice.

Gentlemen, it will be a crime against humanity if this Nation now pours fresh oil on this flame of horrid war at the very moment it shows every sign of beginning to dwindle and to burn out.

Senators and Representatives, it is an awful thing to contemplate the prolongation of this dreadful agony of crucifixion of the people of Europe.

God grant that those of you who have hearts to sympathize with the world's vast woe, and who have heads that keep cool in this maelstrom of passion and unreason, will stand firm for the welfare of our dear country, for the welfare of the peoples of Europe, and for the preservation of the white man's civilization on this momentous day.

May the almighty Providence which has guided and sheltered our fathers and our folk, through all the vicissitudes of our national life, give you the wisdom and the patriotic courage to maintain your people's peace, to keep your country from participation in this maniacal conflict in Europe, to refuse to waste American wealth and American lives in insanely assisting to destroy what is left of the white man's power and strength and civilization in the blood-stained and agonized lands across the sea!
